

WEATHER FORECAST

Victoria and Vicinity—Light to moderate winds, continued fine, warm and very dry.
Vancouver and Vicinity—Light to moderate winds, continued fine, warm and very dry.

The Daily Colonist.

(ESTABLISHED 1888)

COLONIST TELEPHONES
Advertising—Empire 4114
Business Office—Empire 4114
Circulation—Garden 1812
Job Printing—Garden 5241
Editorial Rooms—Empire 4111
Social Editors—Empire 3311

NO. 219—SEVENTY-FIFTH YEAR

VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 24, 1933

SIXTEEN PAGES

MANY DEAD IN TERRIFIC ATLANTIC STORM

LONG DESIRED WHEAT GOAL NOW IN SIGHT

Agreement Between Exporting and Importing Countries Expected Tonight

FINAL DIFFICULTY TO BE IRONED OUT

LONDON, Aug. 23 (CP).—The goal of wheat negotiators for years, an agreement between the world's principal wheat exporting and importing nations, aimed at stabilizing world wheat markets, and consequently raising the price, may be reached by tomorrow night.

The World Wheat Conference re-assembled this afternoon, but adjourned again until tomorrow, when the special committee reported. It had been unable to reach agreement on a definite world wheat price, which will measure the tariff concessions asked of the importing countries.

THE LAST OBSTACLE
Apparently this is the only thing holding up a large measure of agreement between exporting and importing nations. Exporters have already reached wide agreement on restricting crops and stabilizing exports. They have asked importing nations to prevent increases in their domestic production, maintain the quality of bread, remove artificial restrictions on import of wheat, and finally to reduce their customs tariff on wheat accordingly as the world price rises.

It is on the latter point the final difficulty hinges. The second committee of the World Wheat Conference made splendid progress with its appointed task of working out details of an international wheat advisory board, which will be the working out of the agreements that are expected to be signed shortly. The conference adopted the report of the committee.

SAY RECOVERY SIGNS EVIDENT

Two Banks Report Favorable Trend in Business Definitely Established

TORONTO, Aug. 23 (CP).—Signs of recovery in Canada are stressed in the current monthly reviews of both the Bank of Nova Scotia and the Bank of Montreal, made public tonight.

"After a period of almost four years in which the patient chronicler of events has seen the record of conditions of ever-increasing gloom," stated the Bank of Nova Scotia, "it is with relief he is at length able to present the reader with the fact of a definite increase in business activity."

CONSPICUOUS SINCE SPRING
Similarly the Bank of Montreal letter states: "The past month has seen, on the whole, continuance of the favorable trend conspicuous since the Spring; general business is now for the first time this year definitely above the level of the corresponding period of 1932, and notwithstanding the decided check to the speculative upswing administered during July."

BETTER BALANCE
The Bank of Nova Scotia review considers the most significant feature the general rise in commodity prices, and the better equilibrium obtained as between the various groups of prices.
"From a strictly Canadian viewpoint," the letter adds, "the better balance as between the prices of farm products and manufactured goods is especially important."

ROAD TO PEACE DISTRICT ASKED

Construction of Highway From Prince George Suggested as Relief Measure

VANCOUVER, Aug. 23 (CP).—Interest is being shown here in a project, reported to emanate from the Peace River district, which would build a highway of less than 200 miles from Prince George to some point on the East-West Peace River Highway, thus providing a motorway from the northern area to Vancouver.

Vancouver business men are supporting Peace River applications to the Dominion Government and to the Governments of British Columbia and Alberta that the road be built as an unemployment measure. It is claimed Peace River farmers could market their products in Southern British Columbia by truck shipment over the highway, and take back fruit and other commodities now commanding a high price in that area.

Unsuccessful Channel Swim Attempt

Miss Mercedes Gleitze, Who Is a Noted English Swimmer, Was Going Strong, Halfway Across the English Channel, When This Was Taken, But a Few Minutes Later She Had to Give Up. She Had Been Seven Hours in the Water When Forced to Abandon Her Channel Crossing Attempt.

Problems of Pacific Area Must Be Solved to Prevent Otherwise Inevitable War

Party From Chicago and Plane Missing in Northern B.C.

DAWSON CREEK, B.C., Aug. 23 (CP).—Party of six Chicagoans, headed by C. A. Simmons, has been overdue on a flight into the Upper Halfway country for two days. The party left here Monday morning, and expected to return before nightfall. No word has been received concerning them since their take-off. It is feared their airplane may have been damaged in a forced landing. It was well-equipped.

Reports today said a privately-owned plane from Sexsmith, Alberta, will take off immediately in a search expedition.

Farmers' Need for Credit Is Stressed At Banking Inquiry

Bank Official Unable to Offer Solution to Problem—New System of Municipal Financing Is Tended at Saskatoon Session

REGINA, Aug. 23 (CP).—Farmers in Saskatchewan number approximately 130,000. A large percentage of them cannot present a statement which would justify a bank in advancing them money. They need the money. What is to be done? This was the question put by Premier J. E. Brownlee, of the Royal Commission on Banking, to H. F. Liggins, superintendent of the Canadian Bank of Commerce here, today.

"What is the solution?" asked the commissioner.
"I do not know," replied the superintendent.
"It is not in the national interest the farmer should be allowed to go to seed and not produce. Can he perform his function without credit?" pursued Premier Brownlee.
"No," Mr. Liggins admitted there was a problem and it must be faced, but he had no solution.

On the other hand George Robertson, secretary of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, expressed the belief Canada's financial institutions could supply the necessary funds for agriculture.

"If not," he said, "it appears to me some other agency must be set up to provide credit." National interest must be placed first and private interest second. The raising of interest rates would be a disaster.

Heron and Fish Prey Of Storm

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (AP).—A baby heron and a tropical fish were blown into town today by the storm.

The heron was found, bruised and battered and with a broken right wing, in Steeplechase Park, Coney Island. It was turned over to the Bronx Zoo.
A fish, identified at the American Museum of Natural History as a "big eye," whose normal habitat is the warm waters of the West Indies, swam into a fish trap off Fire Island.

Daughter of Former Gold Commissioner Honored in Cariboo

QUESNEL, Aug. 23.—Miss Lottie Bowron, of Victoria, daughter of the late John Bowron, one of that small group of adventurers who made the famous overland journey from Eastern Canada to Cariboo in '22 to serve for many years as gold commissioner at Barkerville, at present visiting in Cariboo, was a guest of honor at the Cariboo Gold Quartz Mine, where the Vancouver Board of Trade party, now touring the Cariboo gold field, had its luncheon today.

WORRIED BY NEW QUOTA

French Restriction on Japanese Salmon Considered Economic Warfare

TOKYO, Aug. 23 (CP).—Considerable concern has been created among Japanese packers and exporters of sea products, one of Japan's leading industries, by the news that France has clamped down an import quota restriction on Japanese canned salmon, by which sales of this product to France will be cut by approximately one-third, or about 100,000 cases a year.

ECONOMIC WARFARE
This is looked upon in Japan as another manifestation of what is regarded here as an economic warfare against Japanese goods in many parts of the world. The result is likely to be redoubled efforts to find outlets in other markets, it is said.

The French Government, according to the report received in Tokyo, has issued an order restricting the total imports of canned salmon to a code of their own and went on a six-hour day.

LUMBER YARDS SWEEPED BY FIRE

Navy Detachments Help in Stiff Fight to Control Bremerton Blaze

BREMERTON, Wash., Aug. 23 (AP).—A fire which swept through an eight-acre lumber company plant, late tonight, endangering the whole north end of the city, was brought under control after a two-hour fight, with detachments of men from eight warships in the harbor aiding the firemen.

The loss to the holdings of the Loftus Lumber Company was estimated at $10,000, firemen said. Two nearby dwellings were also burned.

Mishap Mars Queen's Visit To Civic Hall

LEEDS, England, Aug. 23 (CP).—A slight but painful mishap to the Queen today marred a triumphant visit of Her Majesty to Leeds, president of the opening of the new civic hall here.

A piece of grit lodged in the Queen's eye and caused her considerable pain until it was removed by Lord Moylan, of Leeds, president of the Royal College of Surgeons, an hour later.
The King and Queen traveled from Harewood House, near here. They rode in state from the outskirts of the city, and thousands of citizens lined the streets to give them a loud and hearty welcome.

Eastern Board Sees Revival for Lumber Industry as Certain

MONTREAL, Aug. 23 (CP).—Increased purchase of Canadian lumber by United Kingdom markets, and prospects of increased sales in United States, where a "wave of economic optimism consequent upon President Franklin D. Roosevelt's National Recovery Act," is said to have resulted in a building boom, are listed as "signs of unmistakable revival in the Canadian lumber industry," in a report drawn up by the Montreal Board of Trade.

The report is based on results of a canvass of the lumber industry in the Maritime Provinces, Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia. Re-equipment in the near future of Canadian lumber mills in order to provide lumber according to United Kingdom specifications, is viewed as increasingly possible in the report. Heretofore idle, ships are now moving Canadian lumber from Atlantic Coast ports to New York and Boston, the report continues. Widening markets for British Columbia fir and cedar are reported, and the recent shipment of 750,000 feet of this wood to Toronto, via the Panama Canal, is viewed as an indication Central Canada markets are opening for British Columbia lumber.

PROPERTY LOSS ON EASTERN U.S. COAST RUNS INTO MILLIONS

Worst Gale in Thirty-Seven Years Lashes Half-Dozen States—Coastal Shipping Is Crippled—Power and Communication Lines Down—Buildings Ruined and Streets Flooded

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (CP).—Increasing its violence with the darkness, the worst gale on the Atlantic, in years, lashed wildly tonight against the United States coast from New England to Hatteras, brought death to many localities, caused property damage of untold millions, and tossed up mammoth waves that held the fate of missing persons.

An unknown number of persons lost their lives as the storm—a mixture of a Caribbean hurricane and wild north-easter—rolled ashore with a high tide along Virginia's coast, wrecked resorts at Virginia Beach and Ocean View, and inundated the waterfront at Norfolk.

MEN UNABLE TO CHECK FLAMES

Hundreds of Square Miles of Oregon Forests Are Destroyed by Fire

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 23 (AP).—Tall, blackened snags reached toward the skies through acrid smoke on thousands of acres of land tonight, as the worst forest fire in Oregon's history continued its mad sweep across the mountains of the North Coast country.

The snags a week ago were luxuriant evergreen trees, ready for the woodman's axe. Today an area of 350 square miles of this virgin timber had either been destroyed, or was in imminent danger of destruction by the red menace. Today, quick commands sent them to zones of comparative safety.

Officials in charge of the fire fighters realized man could not stand against the flood of fire unless nature should assist with fog or heavy dew or rain. But the weather bureau saw no such hope. Continued sweating, drying weather was predicted.

Roughly, the fire area was bounded by Cochrane and McMinnville on the north and south, and by Forest Grove and Tillamook at the east and west sides. These towns constituted corners of the huge square, fifty miles on a side. In the north corner of this square there was about 350 square miles of country, most of which was in flames.

HAVANA GUARD STRENGTHENED

Communist Plans for Demonstrations Cause Anxiety for Cuban Gov't

HAVANA, Aug. 23 (AP).—Soldiers and police were ordered on guard in the streets and parks of the capital tonight, after authorities received a report demonstrations were planned by Communists the newest trouble of the new Cuban Government.

The organization had been denied a permit to parade in observance of the execution of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti in the United States six years ago.

Speakers at Communist headquarters harranged an audience of negroes and whites, criticizing the Provisional Government of President Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, the A.B.C. Secret Society, "Yankee imperialism" and capitalism.

Says Philosophy of Hoover's Presidency Wrecked Two Banks

Minister Makes Violent Attack on Former Executive From Witness Stand at Detroit—Money for the Masses Considered Menace

DETROIT, Aug. 23 (AP).—His voice ringing through a courtroom jammed to the doors, Rev. Dr. Charles E. Coughlin, today, denounced the philosophy of Herbert Hoover during his administration, condemned local banking methods, and charged two closed National Banks, here, were "wrecked by the philosophy that money in the hands of the masses was a menace."

His dramatic testimony came during his first day on the witness stand before the one-man grand jury investigating the closing of the two banks, the First National Bank, Detroit, and the Guardian National Bank of Commerce.

Scores were unable to force their way into the packed courtroom as the well-known Canadian-born priest went on the stand.

EXPLOITATION OF THE FEW
Hoover, he declared, was "a concrete example of the exploitation of the few by the 'masses,'" and he submitted for the record an article from a London mining magazine of 1912, which, he declared, the former President wrote. It was entitled "The Economics of a Boom." Father Coughlin said it dealt with exploitation and high finance in mining. He said the philosophy expressed in the article was characteristic of the former President's administration.

GOLD AND STARVATION
"Hoover tried to cure this damnable depression by pouring in gold at the top, while the people starved at the bottom," cried Father Coughlin, rising from his chair and pounding the witness table with both fists.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS AT GRAND FORKS

Three Buildings Destroyed in Heart of Business Section—Citizens Wage Hard Battle

GRAND FORKS, Aug. 23 (CP).—The worst fire in twenty-five years broke out at 3 a.m., and razed K. Rutter's Pool Hall with rooming apartment above, the Valentin Market and Ted Waldron's Barber Shop, which are in the center of a group of seven frame structures in the business section. The loss was estimated at $45,000.

The fire had a big start at the meat market and pool hall, and the whole block appeared doomed for a time, but fire strong streams of water held the flames in check.

The City Grocery, Grand Forks Restaurant and Morrison's Jewelry Store were damaged by water.

Highland Contests For Willows Fair Will Be Big Event

Approximately 100 Competitors Expected—J. A. Dewar Arranges for Mainland and Up-Island Contestants—Special Award Made

ARRANGEMENTS for the holding of the first Highland piping and dancing contests at the Willows Exhibition, during the week of September 11 to 16, are well advanced, and some 100 competitors should take part, it was announced yesterday by J. A. Dewar, who is officiating as secretary of this section of the Fair.

The Highland piping and dancing are being sponsored by the Victoria

Invisible Bridgework

- We can now replace missing teeth with no sign of gold bridgework. Let us give you an estimate.

DR. E. S. TAIT
AND ASSOCIATES
707 Yates St. Phone E 1815

G. E. Refrigerator

$179.50
25c a Day

JAMESON'S ELECTRICAL LTD.
717 Fort St. Phone G 1823

Colwood Millwood

$3.50 Per Cord
Walter Walker & Sons, Ltd.
1425 Douglas St. Phone G 1814

NEW BEATTY IRONER

A mother's desire for keeping her children clean and neatly dressed, is easily realized when she has a complete Beatty home laundry outfit to help her.

Beatty Washer Store
Phone G 7511—1609 Douglas St.

HATT'S

Week-End Specials

FENCING
Barbed Wire in 100-foot lengths. Handy for hedges, etc. Special 69c
Lawn Border—Woven wire, 18 inch. Yard 40c
Lawn Fencing—30 inch. Per yard 37c
Field Fencing—36 inch. Per yard 71c
Fencing Netting—36 inch. Per yard 8c
50-yard rolls $2.75

1000 School Children's Lunch Boxes
Nicely Made Boxes with good catches. Just the right size. Worth 35c each or more.
To clear at 15c

"Miracle" Varnish
On Sale Saturday Only
Highest quality clear varnish. Dries in four hours. Note the reduction. Quart, reg. $1.50, Saturday 60c
Pint, reg. 85c, Saturday 35c

TURPS AND OIL
Pure turpentine, pure raw or bottled oil. Half pint 19c
Quart 29c

BENCH GRINDERS
Enthal make. Special prices to clear an over-stock.
4-in. wheel. Reg. $1.00, Sale price $1.00
6-in. wheel. Reg. $2.75, Sale price $1.95

SHOVELS
Long-handle shovels. Special 65c

Bamboo Lawn Rakes
Good quality. Three-day special. Each 10c

HATT'S HARDWARE
1418 DOUGLAS STREET

POPULAR CASH—1717 DOUGLAS ST. 2421. PROPER CASH—727 YATES ST. G 5927. TELE SERVICE—DOUGLAS ST.

BATCHELORS CASH CARRY

THURSDAY SPECIALS

| | | |
|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| AUSTRALIAN LUNCH TONIC, 21c | KEN-L-EATION, English Box Food, 25c | MAP OF ITALY OLIVE TONIC, 63c |
| ARMOUR'S CORNED BEEF, 19c | COOKIES SHORTENING, 23c | PURE MALT VINEGAR, 16c |
| 8 E.L.O.G.S. RICE, 19c | CINNAMON POWDER, 19c | SEEDED RAISINS, 19c |
| 2 1/2 LBS. ROOT OR GINGER BEER, 25c | PARTY FLOUR, 19c | RED ARROW SODA, 15c |

WOUNDED MAN IS FOUND ON STREET

Roy P. Thompson Taken to Jubilee Hospital With Serious Injury in the Head

Roy P. Thompson, 1239 Beach Drive, was found lying on a road-way leading off Wharf Street at the rear of the Postoffice building, with a bullet wound in his head, early yesterday morning.

W. G. Hook, 1346 Grant Street, city street sweeper, made the discovery about 5:30 o'clock. Mr. Thompson was conscious at the time, but bleeding from the wound on the forehead. A few feet away was found a revolver with one cartridge discharged.

Police were immediately notified and Mr. Thompson was removed to the Jubilee Hospital in the ambulance. Dr. M. W. Thomas is the attending physician. Mr. Thompson's condition late last night was reported as fair.

Inquiries made by the police revealed that Mr. Thompson had left his home at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday evening. He had just returned from his annual vacation.

WORRIED BY NEW QUOTA

Continued from Page 1

384,000 cases a year, to be divided equally between Canada and Japan. The order is being enforced in December of this year, it is understood.

CONSIDERABLE LOSS

This will mean that the Japanese share of the trade will be 192,000 cases a year, as against the approximate total of 300,000 cases estimated for shipment to France from December, last year, to November, this year. Japan's loss, as a result, will run into nearly half a million yen a year. (The normal value of the yen is 40 cents.)

Japan's export of sea products to China has suffered much from the anti-Japanese boycott, intensified by the new tariff enforced in China in May. Consequently the Kobe Marine Products Association, the most important organization of its kind in Japan, is sponsoring a search for new markets to fill the gap.

POSSIBLE MARKETS

James S. Sutherland, and other countries to the south are thought to offer the best possibilities. Efforts will be made to create a market in the new State of Manchukuo, also.

SAYS PHILOSOPHY OF HOOVER'S PRESIDENCY WRECKED TWO BANKS

Continued from Page 1

"He fed grain to pigs in Arkansas, but he wouldn't give a loaf of bread to the people of Michigan. I'm not criticizing him, but I condemn his philosophy, and I cite him as a definite and concrete example of the philosophy that money in the hands of the masses was a menace. I'll show that the Detroit bankers were brought up in the same school."

NOT WORTH THE TRIP

The former President, requested to come here to testify before the jury, has replied information concerning Michigan's banking affairs in his possession is insufficient to justify a trip to Detroit.

FARMERS' NEED FOR CREDIT IS STRESSED AT BANKING INQUIRY

Continued from Page 1

price levels for agricultural products was a vital necessity.

REGRET'S SOMBRE NOTE

Lord Macmillan, chief commissioner, sounded a note of regret the picture which has been painted for his body in the two Saskatchewan sittings should have been, of necessity, such a sombre one. "I can only deplore, and deeply deplore, it should be such a melancholy picture," he said, in bidding farewell to the province. He and his colleagues wished for Saskatchewan a return of that prosperity which had been hers.

Farmers contributed today to the dark picture which Lord Macmillan spoke of.

"Something has got to be done," was the protest from Edward Polter, farmer of the Regina district for twenty-one years, who said he "used to be able to go into a bank and get $10,000, and now he doubted if he could get 10,000 cents." He was not finding fault with the banks, but he asked: "Why should the banks be getting their crop when the farmer is getting no crop?" The banker should take some of the loss as well as the farmer, he thought.

ASSISTANCE NEEDED

"This year's crop—an exact figure as to the ultimate yield is not yet determinable—may not run in excess of 125,000,000 bushels, and as whole districts have not obtained the return of seed and are without fodder for cattle, assistance on a very extensive scale will be necessary in respect of providing seed, fodder for livestock, clothing, food, fuel, oil, etc., in order to maintain the farmers in a productive capacity," Mr. Liggins also told the commissioner.

"The banks respectfully submit they are endeavoring to meet the situation in a sympathetic and helpful spirit, realizing the whole economic set-up of the Dominion depends upon the rehabilitation of agriculture," Mr. Liggins stated.

He put a question in respect to stabilization of the Canadian dollar. "Are we going to try to attach our dollar to United States dollar or pound sterling?" he asked. He did not think Canada could follow two policies at once, and this question should be decided.

The other bank official who appeared was W. G. Yule, supervisor of the Royal Bank of Canada, who opened his statement by saying when drought occurs over a period of years "the pillar falls on the just and unjust."

CORRECTS ERRORS

He devoted a portion of his statement to correcting errors which he claimed had been made in previous testimony. High interest rates were not charged by the banks, he said. Since May last, the rate on farmers' loans had been 7 per cent in every case. Prior to that it was 8 per cent. Municipalities did not pay 7 per cent, but 6 1/2 per cent, he added.

Wanted Their Share of Government's Pheasants

MOOSE JAW, Aug. 23 (CP).—Fifteen hundred young pheasants, hatched out by D. S. A. Merkle in incubators for the Provincial Game Branch, have been stolen from the pens in a series of ten night raids.

The young birds were hatched from eggs laid by the pheasants imported by the Game Branch from North Dakota last Spring.

The thieves left a note: "To h— with your gun club."

ram force against the Hampton Roads area.

Communication lines were ripped away, cottages were forced to flee from crumbling beach structures, traffic was crippled, power plants were shut off. The tide reached into Norfolk, flooding streets and cellars and disrupting traffic.

The brunt of the storm was borne by the outlying resort sections of Virginia Beach, Oceanview and Willoughby.

National Guard officers at Buckroe Beach and Phoebus, across Hampton Roads from Norfolk, reported that lives and property were threatened, called for help.

Polard ordered Adjutant-General Waller to furnish all needed assistance. State, motor vehicle police were sent.

STREETS ARE FLOODED

In Norfolk tidewaters blown in by the storm flooded streets and cellars. Before and other improvised means of transportation were used in the morning, but the water subsided enough later to permit resumption of vehicular traffic.

The city was without newspapers as the result of the cutting off of power.

Three negroes were electrocuted by a high-tension wire in Portsmouth this afternoon and the power was cut off immediately afterward.

The fourth fatality was Oscar Dockery, of Norfolk, who was drowned while trying to tow a boat ashore yesterday afternoon. Captain C. F. Laird, occupant of a ship, was killed when a tree was blown across his track.

FORCED TO SEEK REFUGE

Cottagers at Virginia Beach and Oceanview were forced to seek refuge in a ferry terminal at Virginia Beach, at high tide, and Norfolk stores found their first floor covered with several feet of water.

Crippled communications made an accurate survey of the property damage difficult, but early estimates placed it in the millions.

Two barges were reported two miles off the Virginia Capes plunging heavily in the tremendous seas.

LOSS IN PENNSYLVANIA

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23 (AP).—A whipping tail of a West Indian hurricane lashed the tri-state area of Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey and Delaware today.

Accompanied by a sixty-mile-an-hour wind and an all-day-long heavy downpour of rain, the storm swept in from the coast, caused at least three fatalities in Pennsylvania, and in New Jersey, where it flooded streets and homes and left the region in many places without electric power and transportation facilities.

STORM ABATING

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Aug. 23 (AP).—While giant seas continued to pound the New Jersey shore, indications late tonight were that the four-day storm which had caused at least eight deaths in the state and thousands of dollars of damage was abating.

The New Jersey resort region, taking stock of its losses, found that the wind had blown away and washed ashore, beaches scoured and shore structures battered.

LASHED BY WIND

The metropolitan area of this city was lashed by wind and rain tonight.

Signs were ripped from buildings, cornices and awnings were blown away, and basements were flooded, small boats were torn from their moorings and harbor traffic was disrupted generally.

New York's millions, swathed in glistering raincoats and shielded by umbrellas, huddled against buildings and in doorways and took to subterranean passageways wherever possible. Gutters flowed deep and taxi drivers were able to choose their passengers.

In the suburbs, trees were broken off by a forty-fifty-mile wind. Shrubbery was uprooted and fruit trees denuded.

Coastguard vessels piled the choppy waters of the harbor throughout the day, effecting rescues and making small boat fast.

LOST WITH FOUR ABOARD

The owners of the fishing boat Emma appealed to the Coastguard to search for their vessel, last seen Monday, nine miles southeast of Seagrass, N.J., with four men aboard.

Another Coastguard vessel fought its way to a disabled motorboat two miles off Brightleaf beach, where a man had been seen waving for help from the cabin.

Seven men were taken off the motor yacht. The vessel was breaking up on the beach off Lewes Station, N.J.

Aid was dispatched to Rockaway, where an elderly man was reported in danger on a thirty-five-foot cruiser in Jamaica Bay.

SHIP NOT HEARD FROM

The Tidewater Oil Company notified the Coastguard that the 220-foot tanker Vedol, en route to New York from Dallas, had not been heard from.

The wind increased in force during the evening, and at 9:30 o'clock the indicator atop of the Empire State Building, the tallest structure in the world, registered more than sixty miles an hour. One blast of the wind caused the needle to point to ninety miles an hour.

HEAVY PROPERTY LOSS

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 23 (AP).—At least eight lives were lost and property damage was counted in the millions today when a raging north-easter and a tropical hurricane swept in from the Atlantic.

Blowing a gale ashore and with hurricane force at sea, the storm drove a high tide with battering getting all the birds. We think we have as much right to them. We are placing the 1,300 we took in twelve good places, with some seventy-five to 125 in each place. Branch, have been stolen from the pens in a series of ten night raids.

The young birds were hatched from eggs laid by the pheasants imported by the Game Branch from North Dakota last Spring.

The thieves left a note: "To h— with your gun club."

ram force against the Hampton Roads area.

Communication lines were ripped away, cottages were forced to flee from crumbling beach structures, traffic was crippled, power plants were shut off. The tide reached into Norfolk, flooding streets and cellars and disrupting traffic.

The brunt of the storm was borne by the outlying resort sections of Virginia Beach, Oceanview and Willoughby.

National Guard officers at Buckroe Beach and Phoebus, across Hampton Roads from Norfolk, reported that lives and property were threatened, called for help.

Polard ordered Adjutant-General Waller to furnish all needed assistance. State, motor vehicle police were sent.

STREETS ARE FLOODED

In Norfolk tidewaters blown in by the storm flooded streets and cellars. Before and other improvised means of transportation were used in the morning, but the water subsided enough later to permit resumption of vehicular traffic.

The city was without newspapers as the result of the cutting off of power.

Three negroes were electrocuted by a high-tension wire in Portsmouth this afternoon and the power was cut off immediately afterward.

The fourth fatality was Oscar Dockery, of Norfolk, who was drowned while trying to tow a boat ashore yesterday afternoon. Captain C. F. Laird, occupant of a ship, was killed when a tree was blown across his track.

FORCED TO SEEK REFUGE

Cottagers at Virginia Beach and Oceanview were forced to seek refuge in a ferry terminal at Virginia Beach, at high tide, and Norfolk stores found their first floor covered with several feet of water.

Crippled communications made an accurate survey of the property damage difficult, but early estimates placed it in the millions.

Two barges were reported two miles off the Virginia Capes plunging heavily in the tremendous seas.

LOSS IN PENNSYLVANIA

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23 (AP).—A whipping tail of a West Indian hurricane lashed the tri-state area of Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey and Delaware today.

Accompanied by a sixty-mile-an-hour wind and an all-day-long heavy downpour of rain, the storm swept in from the coast, caused at least three fatalities in Pennsylvania, and in New Jersey, where it flooded streets and homes and left the region in many places without electric power and transportation facilities.

STORM ABATING

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Aug. 23 (AP).—While giant seas continued to pound the New Jersey shore, indications late tonight were that the four-day storm which had caused at least eight deaths in the state and thousands of dollars of damage was abating.

The New Jersey resort region, taking stock of its losses, found that the wind had blown away and washed ashore, beaches scoured and shore structures battered.

LASHED BY WIND

The metropolitan area of this city was lashed by wind and rain tonight.

Signs were ripped from buildings, cornices and awnings were blown away, and basements were flooded, small boats were torn from their moorings and harbor traffic was disrupted generally.

New York's millions, swathed in glistering raincoats and shielded by umbrellas, huddled against buildings and in doorways and took to subterranean passageways wherever possible. Gutters flowed deep and taxi drivers were able to choose their passengers.

In the suburbs, trees were broken off by a forty-fifty-mile wind. Shrubbery was uprooted and fruit trees denuded.

Coastguard vessels piled the choppy waters of the harbor throughout the day, effecting rescues and making small boat fast.

LOST WITH FOUR ABOARD

The owners of the fishing boat Emma appealed to the Coastguard to search for their vessel, last seen Monday, nine miles southeast of Seagrass, N.J., with four men aboard.

Another Coastguard vessel fought its way to a disabled motorboat two miles off Brightleaf beach, where a man had been seen waving for help from the cabin.

Seven men were taken off the motor yacht. The vessel was breaking up on the beach off Lewes Station, N.J.

Aid was dispatched to Rockaway, where an elderly man was reported in danger on a thirty-five-foot cruiser in Jamaica Bay.

SHIP NOT HEARD FROM

The Tidewater Oil Company notified the Coastguard that the 220-foot tanker Vedol, en route to New York from Dallas, had not been heard from.

The wind increased in force during the evening, and at 9:30 o'clock the indicator atop of the Empire State Building, the tallest structure in the world, registered more than sixty miles an hour. One blast of the wind caused the needle to point to ninety miles an hour.

HEAVY PROPERTY LOSS

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 23 (AP).—At least eight lives were lost and property damage was counted in the millions today when a raging north-easter and a tropical hurricane swept in from the Atlantic.

Blowing a gale ashore and with hurricane force at sea, the storm drove a high tide with battering

HERE YOU ARE FOLKS! GET A FAMOUS PAR.T. MASK OF MINNIE OR ME FREE!

It's a fact! You can get FREE a life-size mask of Mickey or Minnie Mouse with every purchase of two packages of Quaker Puffed Rice or Wheat... the dainty, delicious cereals that are "shot from guns." Look for these masks at your grocer's!

These Par.T. Masks will sweep the country with their popularity. It's the newest, smartest, most sensational novelty in years. They'll give grown-ups heaps of fun at parties, masquerades and for movie playlets. All the kids are crazy about them. Yet you get them FREE! Your grocer will supply your masks of Mickey or Minnie. If by any chance, he hasn't yet received his supply you can get your mask by mailing two package tops, showing the arrow, of Quaker Puffed Wheat or Puffed Rice, with your name and address, to The Quaker Oats Company, Saskatoon, Saskatchewan.

AT NEW LOW PRICES!

Puffed Wheat—Puffed Rice

Made in Canada by THE QUAKER OATS COMPANY

THE WAREHOUSE GROCERY
SAVES YOU MONEY
"DIRECT FROM PACKING CASE TO CONSUMER"
845 YATES
THE CONSOLIDATED WAREHOUSE CO. Above Capital Theatre

Get an All-Metal Refrigerator
At Only $9.95
Holds 40 Lbs. Ice. Gives Entire Satisfaction.
Inspection Invited.

The Red Cross Workshop
584-6 Johnson St. Phone E 3513

LONG DESIRED WHEAT GOAL NOW IN SIGHT

Continued from Page 1

INTERNATIONAL BODY

This international body will consist of ten to twelve members. It will be charged with the task of keeping all countries concerned advised as to the progress made with the working out of the agreement.

The technical committee has agreed to the extent the world price of wheat should be based on the method adopted by Stanford University of California, of taking the average price of all parcels of wheat sold at all ports in the United Kingdom from week to week.

FOUR-MONTH AVERAGE

It was further agreed the price should be the average of four months, which means the price level agreed upon must be maintained for four months before the importing nations are asked to reduce their tariffs in accordance with the agreement.

Exporters tonight were holding out for a price of 11 gold francs per quintal, or about 60 cents gold per bushel, while the importers desired the measuring-rod price to be fixed at 12 francs 50 centimes, or about 68 cents gold per bushel.

HEAD FIX
A safe and unexcelled relief for Headaches, Neuralgia and Rheumatic Pains.
Prepared by REID CHEMICAL CO.
Head Fix makes... PRICE 25c 50c

THE VANCOUVER DRUG CO., LIMITED

In Selling Your Goods a Bright, Attractive

LABEL

Is of Great Assistance

SEE that your labels are as good as the product they sell. Goods of quality need labels distinctive in character and in good taste—and that correctly identify your product with the public.

We are able to supply correct labels, suggesting and furnishing designs in any color or color combination.

BUY BRITISH COLUMBIA PRODUCTS

THE COLONIST

1211 Broad Street—Phone G 5241
PRINTING :: LITHOGRAPHING :: BOOKBINDING :: ENGRAVING

Reporter Gets Into Card Game and Has Opium in His Curry

Recovers His Belongings After Believing Himself Robbed in Land Where Crime Is a Religion and That Religion Popular

By Gordon Sinclair

SECUNDERABAD, India.—Meaning like a roller coaster through the hot heart of Hindustan runs the biggest one-man railroad in the world, the road with the longest name on earth.

So now, at four o'clock on a stuffy morning let's climb aboard His Exalted Highness The Nizam of Hyderabad's Own State Railroad and resume our trek into the heart of the Himalayas.

It was a small train full of big men wearing fezzes. Hardly a turban or a Gandhi cap in the place. I rambled along to hunt a squatting place, but the train was jammed. Finally, in spite of an Englishman's protest, I got in with him. "You'll really have to get out you know; this compartment is occupied," he spluttered.

"By whom?" "By me, sir, by me." "Sorry colonel, but this is a compartment for five men only and up to two; and every other hour in the train is jammed. You'll have to put up with me."

That was a full hour before starting time. By the time we rolled away there were seventeen in that five-man compartment, all growling, yawning Mohammedans bound North.

NO OUTCRY

The Englishman was silent. While I climbed into a luggage rack, stripped off most of my clothes and tried to read, he edged further and further into a corner and looked more and more pained.

The fess-topped travelers carried pot-bellied water jars, buckets of stewed chicken, flabby pancakes, lots of yellow rice, ponderous mandolins and packs of cards. They discovered that if they had one more player they could have four tables of bridge. One look at the Englishman ruled him out, so they asked me to play. On the first hand they dealt me eight aces including all the honors and two off aces. I made a grand slam and they put me down as a boy wonder. Everybody in the car spoke English. Not a word in any other language was uttered.

After the first rubber we had rolled up into fresh green countryside. The rice fields were good to look at. Women mucked around in the goo setting out sprouts while men looked on from the sidelines. We munched chicken with rice and played more cards while the pack got greasier and greasier. Then some of the boys dozed off to sleep. The game broke up.

We rattled noisily through the gray country, the land of thieves. The only country in all the world where crime is a religion. One or two got out. Others climbed in to take their places. Occasional Hindus looked into our compartment then fled in horror at sight of so many horse-limbed men of the hills.

At one station a woman came thundering around our window and a fat drum over which the skin of a tiger was stretched. It rumbled in mad defiance. Then, shrieking like a maniac, her husband came up the platform slashing himself with a big snake's whip, stabbing himself with knives, driving long needles through his tongue. Neither the man nor woman begged. The whole performance was sanguinary and exciting, but pretty crazy when you come right down to it.

OPIMUM EATERS

After a bit I had the soggy deadly feeling of being drugged. I discovered with a start that every man back in the car was sound asleep. I myself couldn't possibly keep my eyes open. I had a feeling of falling, falling, falling, where to, what does it matter? I'm so tired. Somehow I managed to get up in the luggage rack again and then the whole world dropped from view for five hours. I woke with a crick in my neck and a feeling of nausea. We were almost into Secunderabad and Hyderabad, the only twin cities of India.

"You slept well?" one of the fess-topped Northerners asked. "Sure did; never felt so sleepy in all my life."

"Surely," he agreed. "The opium." "Opium? What opium. I never used opium in my life."

"In the curry," he explained. "Didn't you know? But perhaps not. It was an opium curry. It helps to pass the weary day."

At Secunderabad I had another sinking feeling. Part of my kit was gone. I crawled around on the floor, pulled down bed roll after bed roll, hunted through other people's gear. No matter, a pigskin golfbag, given to me by the boys at Royal York was gone. "The land thieves!" "Where crime is a religion," I remembered those slogans now while the train whistled shrilly to be away again. I climbed out wondering if this drugged food had been a deliberate plot and, feeling very woozy, started up shimmering white steps.

ROBBED!

A guard stopped me. "Tickets please." I felt for my wallet. Gone! I nearly collapsed right there. In my pockets, no wallet. In it was my letter of credit, cash, travelers' cheques, luggage receipts. Everything gone. I was half a world away from home flat broke. What's more I had no ticket.

I started back for the car and wobbled sideways. Get a cop, I must get a cop. Stop the train. Don't let it get away. They robbed me.

Peeling pretty awful, I looked around for a cop. There were two prowling the platform. I bore down hoping they could speak English.

Out of the window came a shrill yell: "Hey you, Sinclair; you from Canada. You forgot something." I went over to the window. They handed out my wallet. "Must have dropped out while you were sleeping."

"Gosh, yes, I just missed it. Many thanks. But there's a little brown bag gone too. It had my initials on it. Have a good time."

I felt all gone inside. Boy, what a relief that was. I was still calling myself all sorts of lucky names when a woman in crimson and gold stopped me.

"What's in that?" she demanded. "A camera. Why the barrier?" "All right; but why?"

"Customs," she said. "You've come right through the barrier." "What barrier? What customs?" "Don't know what you're talking about."

"I'm talking about His Exalted Highness the Nizam's customs—and if you step up there you can tell the inspector about those cameras."

So I stepped out and told the inspector. Either he or I seemed pretty dumb at first. Then two rupees appeared, quite by accident, to fall into his hand. My kit was whisked through. I was in the home town of the richest man in all the world. But still pretty froggy.

Helps to Tie and Untie the Knot

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 23 (CP).—A mail order house asked its employees to tell what they did with the increased wages they received under the N.R.A. Four replied the salary increase had enabled them to marry; another said he fled hither to delayed divorce papers.

Radio Commission Artists on Vacation

Far from broadcasting studios, dozens of radio stars are found these Summer days enjoying a brief holiday at the Rouge Hills studio of Billie Bell's mother, Mrs. Margaret Bell. From left to right are seen: Wihart Campbell, Canadian singing ace, studying the intricacies of peeling potatoes; Beatrice Morrison, member of the musical comedy cast of the commission; Mrs. Margaret Bell, mother of Billie Bell, and Billie herself with apron.

LIBEL IN SKIES IS NEW CHARGE

Pilot Arrested as Result of Liquor Legends on Airplane

MONTREAL, Aug. 23 (CP).—Libel in the skies attained official recognition in arraignment court here, today, and this is the story: Pilot Lucien Rodolphe Nieuwenhuizen's silver-plated biplane allegedly bore two legends in four-inch letters referring to the square-faced bottled gin products of the firm of John de Kuyper. The plane—and the legends—were for all to see as the pilot exhibited his plane at the fifth Canadian air pageant here, last week-end.

An affable stranger accosted the pilot, introduced himself as Henry Karel Marie de Kuyper, of Holland, and introduced a second gentleman who said: "I'm an officer of the Quebec Provincial Police. This is an arrest warrant for criminal libel."

RELEASED ON BAIL

So Pilot Nieuwenhuizen appeared in arraignment court, today, charged with criminal libel, was not asked to plead and was released on bail after a date for preliminary hearing has been fixed.

Father—"Well, I can't see why you don't like him. He's so intelligent—why, he's like a walking encyclopedia."

Daughter—"Yes, but I'd rather have somebody with a car."

Having previously stated that there was no constitutional manner in which the Moratorium Act can be varied between sessions, and that the Province was disposed to unseat conditions by further interference with civil agreements, the Government stood firm yesterday.

Individual members of the delegation, chosen at a meeting of Lynn Valley ratepayers, met several members of the Cabinet and advanced their arguments. They were refused formal Cabinet hearing, as they had already been advised that the Government could do nothing in the matter at this time.

The delegation included A. E. Munn, M.P., Roger E. Bray, George H. Hardy, W. H. Morson, George McAulay, A. Francis and Mrs. A. L. Powan. Members of the Government declined to comment on the request, beyond stating there were two sides to the question and the Legislature had already dealt with the subject.

With the approach of Fall, the Rogers-Majestic Corporation announce a new and complete line-up of radios for the 1933-34 season. Just now the Rogers plant at Toronto is a hive humming with activity. Men are being added in increasing numbers to both office and factory personnel as part of the ambitious production plan scheduled for the coming season. With prospects bright for an increased demand for radios, due to new users coming into the market, and others who will be ready for replacement of old radios by the new Rogers, the executives of the Rogers Company are evincing a healthy optimism.

The new range of Rogers models will consist of 5-tube personal midjet models; three consoles (5, 6 and 7-tube models); 9-tube all-wave models, and a special 5-tube end-table model. In addition, plans are under way for a new line of deluxe receivers. Outstanding among the new developments are the multiple tubes. These are expected to create a sensation this year. Each multiple tube does the work of two former type tubes, so that a 5-tube Rogers this year will equal the 7-tube model of previous years.

Extensive newspaper advertising is contemplated by the Rogers Company on its Fall line of receivers. Rogers-Majestic sold more radios last year than any other manufacturer, due mostly to aggressive advertising in the newspaper columns, and it is felt that the same volume of publicity will have equal results this year.

With the approach of Fall, the Rogers-Majestic Corporation announce a new and complete line-up of radios for the 1933-34 season. Just now the Rogers plant at Toronto is a hive humming with activity. Men are being added in increasing numbers to both office and factory personnel as part of the ambitious production plan scheduled for the coming season. With prospects bright for an increased demand for radios, due to new users coming into the market, and others who will be ready for replacement of old radios by the new Rogers, the executives of the Rogers Company are evincing a healthy optimism.

The new range of Rogers models will consist of 5-tube personal midjet models; three consoles (5, 6 and 7-tube models); 9-tube all-wave models, and a special 5-tube end-table model. In addition, plans are under way for a new line of deluxe receivers. Outstanding among the new developments are the multiple tubes. These are expected to create a sensation this year. Each multiple tube does the work of two former type tubes, so that a 5-tube Rogers this year will equal the 7-tube model of previous years.

Extensive newspaper advertising is contemplated by the Rogers Company on its Fall line of receivers. Rogers-Majestic sold more radios last year than any other manufacturer, due mostly to aggressive advertising in the newspaper columns, and it is felt that the same volume of publicity will have equal results this year.

With the approach of Fall, the Rogers-Majestic Corporation announce a new and complete line-up of radios for the 1933-34 season. Just now the Rogers plant at Toronto is a hive humming with activity. Men are being added in increasing numbers to both office and factory personnel as part of the ambitious production plan scheduled for the coming season. With prospects bright for an increased demand for radios, due to new users coming into the market, and others who will be ready for replacement of old radios by the new Rogers, the executives of the Rogers Company are evincing a healthy optimism.

The new range of Rogers models will consist of 5-tube personal midjet models; three consoles (5, 6 and 7-tube models); 9-tube all-wave models, and a special 5-tube end-table model. In addition, plans are under way for a new line of deluxe receivers. Outstanding among the new developments are the multiple tubes. These are expected to create a sensation this year. Each multiple tube does the work of two former type tubes, so that a 5-tube Rogers this year will equal the 7-tube model of previous years.

Extensive newspaper advertising is contemplated by the Rogers Company on its Fall line of receivers. Rogers-Majestic sold more radios last year than any other manufacturer, due mostly to aggressive advertising in the newspaper columns, and it is felt that the same volume of publicity will have equal results this year.

MERCURY RISES TO EIGHTY-SIX

Heat Wave Sweeps Pacific Coast—Fire Hazard Is Increasing

The mercury climbed to 86 degrees as another heat wave swept over the Pacific Coast, F. Napier Denison, director of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory, stated last night.

With the exception of Seattle, Victoria was the hottest Coast city in the Pacific Northwest yesterday. Seattle reported a maximum of 88, but in Vancouver the mercury rose only to 80. Kamloops it was 82, but in Portland the thermometer read 92, while in Southern Oregon it was 94. Sacramento Valley points reported temperatures ranging around the 100 mark.

With indications of northerly winds, another hot day should be in store for Victorians today. Tuesday the maximum was 84. Humidity is low and the forest fire hazard is increasing.

Will Not Change Moratorium Law

Having previously stated that there was no constitutional manner in which the Moratorium Act can be varied between sessions, and that the Province was disposed to unseat conditions by further interference with civil agreements, the Government stood firm yesterday.

Individual members of the delegation, chosen at a meeting of Lynn Valley ratepayers, met several members of the Cabinet and advanced their arguments. They were refused formal Cabinet hearing, as they had already been advised that the Government could do nothing in the matter at this time.

The delegation included A. E. Munn, M.P., Roger E. Bray, George H. Hardy, W. H. Morson, George McAulay, A. Francis and Mrs. A. L. Powan. Members of the Government declined to comment on the request, beyond stating there were two sides to the question and the Legislature had already dealt with the subject.

With the approach of Fall, the Rogers-Majestic Corporation announce a new and complete line-up of radios for the 1933-34 season. Just now the Rogers plant at Toronto is a hive humming with activity. Men are being added in increasing numbers to both office and factory personnel as part of the ambitious production plan scheduled for the coming season. With prospects bright for an increased demand for radios, due to new users coming into the market, and others who will be ready for replacement of old radios by the new Rogers, the executives of the Rogers Company are evincing a healthy optimism.

The new range of Rogers models will consist of 5-tube personal midjet models; three consoles (5, 6 and 7-tube models); 9-tube all-wave models, and a special 5-tube end-table model. In addition, plans are under way for a new line of deluxe receivers. Outstanding among the new developments are the multiple tubes. These are expected to create a sensation this year. Each multiple tube does the work of two former type tubes, so that a 5-tube Rogers this year will equal the 7-tube model of previous years.

Extensive newspaper advertising is contemplated by the Rogers Company on its Fall line of receivers. Rogers-Majestic sold more radios last year than any other manufacturer, due mostly to aggressive advertising in the newspaper columns, and it is felt that the same volume of publicity will have equal results this year.

With the approach of Fall, the Rogers-Majestic Corporation announce a new and complete line-up of radios for the 1933-34 season. Just now the Rogers plant at Toronto is a hive humming with activity. Men are being added in increasing numbers to both office and factory personnel as part of the ambitious production plan scheduled for the coming season. With prospects bright for an increased demand for radios, due to new users coming into the market, and others who will be ready for replacement of old radios by the new Rogers, the executives of the Rogers Company are evincing a healthy optimism.

The new range of Rogers models will consist of 5-tube personal midjet models; three consoles (5, 6 and 7-tube models); 9-tube all-wave models, and a special 5-tube end-table model. In addition, plans are under way for a new line of deluxe receivers. Outstanding among the new developments are the multiple tubes. These are expected to create a sensation this year. Each multiple tube does the work of two former type tubes, so that a 5-tube Rogers this year will equal the 7-tube model of previous years.

Extensive newspaper advertising is contemplated by the Rogers Company on its Fall line of receivers. Rogers-Majestic sold more radios last year than any other manufacturer, due mostly to aggressive advertising in the newspaper columns, and it is felt that the same volume of publicity will have equal results this year.

With the approach of Fall, the Rogers-Majestic Corporation announce a new and complete line-up of radios for the 1933-34 season. Just now the Rogers plant at Toronto is a hive humming with activity. Men are being added in increasing numbers to both office and factory personnel as part of the ambitious production plan scheduled for the coming season. With prospects bright for an increased demand for radios, due to new users coming into the market, and others who will be ready for replacement of old radios by the new Rogers, the executives of the Rogers Company are evincing a healthy optimism.

The new range of Rogers models will consist of 5-tube personal midjet models; three consoles (5, 6 and 7-tube models); 9-tube all-wave models, and a special 5-tube end-table model. In addition, plans are under way for a new line of deluxe receivers. Outstanding among the new developments are the multiple tubes. These are expected to create a sensation this year. Each multiple tube does the work of two former type tubes, so that a 5-tube Rogers this year will equal the 7-tube model of previous years.

Extensive newspaper advertising is contemplated by the Rogers Company on its Fall line of receivers. Rogers-Majestic sold more radios last year than any other manufacturer, due mostly to aggressive advertising in the newspaper columns, and it is felt that the same volume of publicity will have equal results this year.

With the approach of Fall, the Rogers-Majestic Corporation announce a new and complete line-up of radios for the 1933-34 season. Just now the Rogers plant at Toronto is a hive humming with activity. Men are being added in increasing numbers to both office and factory personnel as part of the ambitious production plan scheduled for the coming season. With prospects bright for an increased demand for radios, due to new users coming into the market, and others who will be ready for replacement of old radios by the new Rogers, the executives of the Rogers Company are evincing a healthy optimism.

The new range of Rogers models will consist of 5-tube personal midjet models; three consoles (5, 6 and 7-tube models); 9-tube all-wave models, and a special 5-tube end-table model. In addition, plans are under way for a new line of deluxe receivers. Outstanding among the new developments are the multiple tubes. These are expected to create a sensation this year. Each multiple tube does the work of two former type tubes, so that a 5-tube Rogers this year will equal the 7-tube model of previous years.

Extensive newspaper advertising is contemplated by the Rogers Company on its Fall line of receivers. Rogers-Majestic sold more radios last year than any other manufacturer, due mostly to aggressive advertising in the newspaper columns, and it is felt that the same volume of publicity will have equal results this year.

GIFT VOLUME SPEEDS AWAY

All Manner of Modern Transport Will Participate in Delivery

VANCOUVER, Aug. 23.—A book, which was started from Vancouver this morning on a 10,500-mile journey, will be the object of solicitude of express, railway, steamship and air line officials until it reaches its destination some thirteen days hence—for it is a test shipment to determine the speed with which an express parcel may be handled over regular routes in the area involved.

The book, a copy of Judge F. W. Howay's "British Columbia—The Making of a Province," is being sent by the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, Hon. J. W. Ford, to the Governor of Kenya Colony, British East Africa, Sir Joseph A. Byrne, at Nairobi. The book left here by train for Seattle, will leave there tonight by air line and leave New York tomorrow night aboard the liner Bremen. From Croydon, England, it will be flown to its destination.

NO WASTE MOMENTS

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Closely co-ordinated schedules of rail and air facilities on this continent, a North Atlantic steamship line, the London & Southwestern, Paris, Lyons & Mediterranean, and Italian State Railways and the Imperial Airways, call for a thirteen-day movement over the 10,500 miles intervening between the two far-flung outposts of the British Empire, with scarcely a moment's pause from the time the shipment is turned over to the railway express agency at Victoria until its formal delivery to the Kenya Governor in Equatorial Africa.

Approximately 500 miles west of Land's End a ship-to-shore plane, catapulted from the liner's hurricane deck, will put the shipment into Southampton twenty-four hours ahead of the arrival of the ship.

The book was sent from Victoria to N. K. Vosper, general railway express agent at Vancouver, who forwarded it to Seattle yesterday.

Bronze Age Skeletons Unearthed

LONDON, Aug. 23 (CP).—Burials which took place 4,000 years ago are being unearthed near the village of Cassington, a few miles from Oxford, where a by-pass road is being constructed to divert traffic from the university city.

Seven skeletons, in the "crouched" position which denotes their burial took place in the bronze age, have already come to light. A notable feature in each case was that the body had been buried facing the setting sun.

DEATH REMOVES CARL PETERSON

Carl Peterson, 19 Erie Street, passed away, yesterday, in the Royal Jubilee Hospital, aged sixty-seven years. He was born in Denmark, and had resided here for the past twenty-five years.

The remains are resting at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, where funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 3:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Kept in Step to The Grave Itself

BUDAPEST, Aug. 23 (CP).—Joseph Vizekely and Joseph Nyikus, farmers, were born on the same day, both died on the same day and married on the same day. Recently they died on the same day and were buried in a common grave.

FOREST AREAS CLOSED ON ACCOUNT OF FIRE

FREDERICTON, N.B., Aug. 23 (CP).—New Brunswick's forest areas have been ordered closed to all travel by Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, Premier and Minister of Lands and Mines. Fires raging in Restigouche and Northumberland Counties were still causing the forest service considerable worry.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP).—The United States Labor Board announced today the strike of motion picture sound men had been called off and all striking employees would return to work immediately.

BONERS

are actual humorous tid-bits found in examination papers, essays, etc., by teachers.

"CLEAN! CHIMPNEY'S NEVER LIKE THIS"

A sleepjack is a horse-race over hurdles.

"More haste less speed" means that you can't have your cake and eat it too.

Earmarked gold is gold that is mined at the edges like our gold pieces.

John Massfield was made Poet Laureate of England because he wrote the "Ideals of a King."

You could not understand the natives of Wales because they speak a dialogue of their own.

Enjoy a Dip in One of These

Fine All-Wool Bathing Suits

$1.95, $2.95, $3.95

Why not cool off these warm Summer days by investing in one of these splendid Wool Bathing Suits and enjoying a dip at the beach. You will find here all the smartest "Sun-Black" styles in the newest colors and sizes. At $1.95, $2.95 and $3.95.

ALL SIZES AND COLORS

ALL BATHING CAPS HALF PRICE!

Angus Campbell & Co. Ltd.

ESTABLISHED 1901

King and Prince Are Convalescent

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Aug. 23 (AP).—Physicians attending King Carol and Crown Prince Michael announced today both had completely recovered from measles. The King also suffered from influenza.

MACHADO REPORTED COMING TO CANADA

NASSAU, The Bahamas, Aug. 23 (AP).—It was reported today when Gerardo Machado, ousted President of Cuba, leaves Nassau he will go first to Canada. The date of his departure has not been decided.

COMING TO THE COAST

OTTAWA, Aug. 23 (CP).—Sir William Clark, High Commissioner for the United Kingdom, left Ottawa today on an extended trip to the Pacific Coast, and will be accompanied by Lady Clark.

Papal Nuncio Is Hurt in Accident

BURGOS, Spain, Aug. 23 (AP).—Monsignor Federico Tedeschi, Papal Nuncio, was seriously injured today as the automobile in which he was a passenger struck a telephone post at Miranda de Ebro. It was believed he had suffered several broken ribs and possibly other internal injuries.

Peace Plan Ready For Belligerents

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 23 (AP).—Foreign Office spokesmen said today a peace plan to settle the Gran Chaco war between Bolivia and Paraguay has been agreed upon by the A.B.C. Powers and will be formally proposed to the belligerents in a day or so.

Forest Areas Closed On Account of Fire

FREDERICTON, N.B., Aug. 23 (CP).—New Brunswick's forest areas have been ordered closed to all travel by Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, Premier and Minister of Lands and Mines. Fires raging in Restigouche and Northumberland Counties were still causing the forest service considerable worry.

Kept in Step to The Grave Itself

BUDAPEST, Aug. 23 (CP).—Joseph Vizekely and Joseph Nyikus, farmers, were born on the same day, both died on the same day and married on the same day. Recently they died on the same day and were buried in a common grave.

FOREST AREAS CLOSED ON ACCOUNT OF FIRE

FREDERICTON, N.B., Aug. 23 (CP).—New Brunswick's forest areas have been ordered closed to all travel by Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, Premier and Minister of Lands and Mines. Fires raging in Restigouche and Northumberland Counties were still causing the forest service considerable worry.

Kept in Step to The Grave Itself

BUDAPEST, Aug. 23 (CP).—Joseph Vizekely and Joseph Nyikus, farmers, were born on the same day, both died on the same day and married on the same day. Recently they died on the same day and were buried in a common grave.

FOREST AREAS CLOSED ON ACCOUNT OF FIRE

FREDERICTON, N.B., Aug. 23 (CP).—New Brunswick's forest areas have been ordered closed to all travel by Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, Premier and Minister of Lands and Mines. Fires raging in Restigouche and Northumberland Counties were still causing the forest service considerable worry.

Kept in Step to The Grave Itself

BUDAPEST, Aug. 23 (CP).—Joseph Vizekely and Joseph Nyikus, farmers, were born on the same day, both died on the same day and married on the same day. Recently they died on the same day and were buried in a common grave.

FOREST AREAS CLOSED ON ACCOUNT OF FIRE

FREDERICTON, N.B., Aug. 23 (CP).—New Brunswick's forest areas have been ordered closed to all travel by Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, Premier and Minister of Lands and Mines. Fires raging in Restigouche and Northumberland Counties were still causing the forest service considerable worry.

Kept in Step to The Grave Itself

BUDAPEST, Aug. 23 (CP).—Joseph Vizekely and Joseph Nyikus, farmers, were born on the same day, both died on the same day and married on the same day. Recently they died on the same day and were buried in a common grave.

ESTABLISHED 1901

King and Prince Are Convalescent

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Aug. 23 (AP).—Physicians attending King Carol and Crown Prince Michael announced today both had completely recovered from measles. The King also suffered from influenza.

MACHADO REPORTED COMING TO CANADA

NASSAU, The Bahamas, Aug. 23 (AP).—It was reported today when Gerardo Machado, ousted President of Cuba, leaves Nassau he will go first to Canada. The date of his departure has not been decided.

COMING TO THE COAST

OTTAWA, Aug. 23 (CP).—Sir William Clark, High Commissioner for the United Kingdom, left Ottawa today on an extended trip to the Pacific Coast, and will be accompanied by Lady Clark.

Papal Nuncio Is Hurt in Accident

BURGOS, Spain, Aug. 23 (AP).—Monsignor Federico Tedeschi, Papal Nuncio, was seriously injured today as the automobile in which he was a passenger struck a telephone post at Miranda de Ebro. It was believed he had suffered several broken ribs and possibly other internal injuries.

Peace Plan Ready For Belligerents

The Daily Colonist
Established 1858
The Colonist Printing and Publishing Company, Limited, Liability.
J. L. Tait, Business Manager
Subscription Rates by Carrier and by Mail in Districts Contiguous to Victoria, Served by Colonist City Carriers:
Yearly $12.00
Monthly 1.00
All subscription rates payable in advance. Mail subscribers are requested to make all remittances direct to The Daily Colonist.
Subscribers in ordering change of address should be particular to give both old and new address.
Subscription Rates by Mail:
To Canada, Great Britain, the United States and Mexico, except districts as above:
Yearly $6.00
Half-Yearly 3.00
Quarterly 1.50
Thursday, August 24, 1933

HUMORS OF RECOVERY PLAN

The National Recovery programme in the United States is a twist and turns hardly foreseen by its progenitors. One of its cardinal points is that consumers, with the higher wages that have been obtained, should turn the money into goods. General Johnson, the Industrial Recovery Administrator, says that "just as sure as the sun sets" higher prices are going to result, and as a consequence people will save money now by buying. This seems logical advice were it not for some other considerations. What is being done with the receipt by numbers of persons of larger wages is simply that they are paying off the debts which they contracted during periods of enforced idleness. That is the better and the straighter way, rather than launching out into new expenditures while leaving old outlays owing.

General Johnson no doubt desires to stimulate public buying. Appeals and threats are being used to further this end. The fact remains that under the National Recovery programme increased buying is not being felt to the extent anticipated. The honesty of consumers is upsetting the policy of the Administration. The Rooseveltian plan is clearly an inflationary one, and, needless to say, its progress is being watched with grave anxiety. There is a widespread realization that the methods advocated by the Government are put forward to justify the policy on which it has embarked. In other words, it is not a charitable desire to see people obtain the best for their money that more widespread purchases are advocated, but because of the urgent necessity of bringing consumption more into line with current production.

There is a dragging process in progress. A Government, like an individual, can engage in blackmail. General Johnson has issued a warning to employers "not to trifle with the Blue Eagle." It has been pointed out to the Recovery Administrator that shareholders in companies must be safeguarded, and to this he has replied that shareholders "would be all right if this plan succeeds; but Heaven help them if it fails." That is an illustration of the arrogance which goes hand in hand with the putting into effect of the experimental industrial programme in the United States. The Government at Washington failed to balance its own Budget and now it has set itself the task of instructing everyone else in the country how his or her business should be conducted, and it predicts a catastrophe if what it orders is not achieved. The situation has many elements of humor that are hardly yet discernible to the American people.

GERMANY AND AUSTRIA

The Nazi Government in Germany does not welcome any interpolation by other Powers in connection with its dispute with Austria. This was made clear when the French Ambassador at Berlin invoked the Four-Power Pact recently signed at Rome, and through the medium of which the French Government regards recent instances of German propaganda directed against Austria as inconsistent with existing treaty obligations. The German Government replied that there had been no treaty infractions, and, moreover, that French interference with the German-Austrian dispute are considered as inadmissible. The British Charge d'Affaires received the same answer when making similar representations.

The Nazi Government obviously believes that the struggle now in progress, by devious means, to bring in Austria as a part of the German State is regarded as vital for the perpetuation of Hitlerism. Under the old regime in Germany Dr. Brüning proposed an Austro-German Customs Union. This was uncompromisingly opposed in Paris and London, and Dr. Brüning failed. The old struggle has recommenced with an even greater goal in view, and there is a determination in Berlin that Chancellor Hitler will succeed where Dr. Brüning failed. Such success would do more than perhaps anything else to consolidate Nazi rule.

Herr Hitler is fully aware that there is an element of irresolution among those who oppose German claims to Austria. He believes, for instance, that the opposition will not go further than mere remonstrance. Hence his campaign is being pressed. His obvious aim is to undermine the Austrian Government, to force its resignation and to bring about elections in which the Nazi Party will have its chance to secure power. Then either a formal union of the two countries would take place, or, if that were not considered necessary for the time being, it is felt that a Nazi Chancellor in Austria would be a liege of Herr Hitler. The situation is one developing possibilities of a new change in the map of Europe.

RUSSIA'S UNEMPLOYED

Something in the nature of banishment is the cure for unemployment in Soviet Russia. The problem there is not recognized as a problem at all, although within recent months millions have been added to the number of those out of work. In the last week in July the Soviet Government decreed a reduction in employees of all "trusts" and "syndicates." The reduction was to the tune of 25.7 per cent. A process of reduction in workers and in office staffs has been going on since the beginning of the year, since, in fact, it was discovered that the Five-Year Plan had not fulfilled anticipations. The policy now is that all factories which do not reach the required standards of efficiency are to be liquidated without further notice. Under this policy many factories have been closed; in others there has been a substantial reduction in the number of employees.

The unemployment problem thus created, and it would be recognized in any other country as unemployment, is covered by passport and de-population decrees. Unemployed persons come under the classification of undesirable. They are only allowed to live in restricted areas. When a person becomes unemployed he forfeits his ration card. Unless he obtains new employment and a new card he must retire with all his family to one of the "second-class zones." It is only through being re-employed that he can requalify for first-class citizenship. The zone system is being enforced by the creation of a new police department, and now the entire police system of the Soviet Union is placed under the management of the O.G.P.U.

Nothing is allowed to be published of the fate of the unemployed. It is not consistent with Communist propaganda to admit that unemployment exists in the country, though probably, in proportion to population, Russia has more unemployed than any country on earth. What is known, however, is that famine exists in many of the restricted zones. The Riga correspondent of The London Times says that the fate of these outcasts does not seem to interest the Soviet Administration, which persists in declaring that the unemployment problem has been satisfactorily solved in Russia. The solution is the banishment of the unemployed from the industrial centres. They are removed so that they will not offend the eye either of the Soviet Government or of foreign visitors to Russia. It is the kind of solution for unemployment that a Government which battens on subterfuge would be most likely to find.

THE LITTLE HOUSES

We have builded many things, fashioned many wonders, Scythed and ploughed and saddle-tree and hunting knife and spear; We have wrought for glory and for beauty and for pleasure. And have builded little houses for the women we hold dear.

All along the highway there are little houses, Pleasant in the sunlight, peaceful in the rain; You may see the folk go forth early in the morning And at dusk returning home along the lane.

We have fashioned Zeppelins and bayonets and cannon, Launched our dreadnoughts on the sea, a terror to the deep; Yet, God be our witness, we have builded little houses— Little peaceful homes where the little children sleep. Some are set in gardens, lawns and trees about them. Some are crowded wall to wall along the city street; But in town and country God has blessed the little houses.

With the laughing eyes of women and children's romping feet.

We have moulded for ourselves telegraphs and tunnels, Builded bridge and barrack-room, derrick, dock and gun; But for love of women we have builded little houses, Pleasant and peaceful in the sun. All the world over there are little houses, Silent in the starlight, shining in the dew; There, with children's laughter and the loving hearts of women, God, the Mighty Builder, builds this world anew.

—Victor Starbuck, in The Montreal Gazette.

BECAUSE

Because one star, of millions in the sky, Encroached upon another's chosen way, And caused a little shower of sparks to fly, That whirled about their parent-sun today; Because strange seeds that filled the cooling earth Could clothe the naked soil with grass and flowers And bring unnumbered miracles to birth, In divers shapes, endowed with divers powers; Because a lingering spark of ancient fire Within man's heart became a glowing flame, To fill his days with dreaming and desire, To sweep him on to nobleness or shame;— Because of "chances" in uncharted years, The earth is filled with wonders, I with tears.

—Constance Davies-Woodrow in Poetry Year Book.

THE WEATHER

Meteorological Office, Victoria, B.C., at 8 p.m., August 23, 1933.

SYNOPSIS

A pronounced high pressure area is now centred over the Gulf of Alaska, and fine, warmer weather continues over this Province. Rain is again reported in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Forecast from Juan de Fuca to Estevan Point: Light to moderate northerly and westerly winds, continued fine and warm.

PRECIPITATION AND TEMPERATURES

| Station | Rain Min. | Max. |
|---------------|-----------|------|
| Vancouver | 58 | 85 |
| Nanaimo | 58 | 85 |
| Kamloops | 58 | 85 |
| Prince George | 58 | 85 |
| Estevan Point | 58 | 85 |
| Prince Rupert | 58 | 85 |
| Aldergrove | 58 | 85 |
| Seattle | 58 | 85 |
| Portland | 58 | 85 |
| San Francisco | 58 | 85 |
| Spokane | 58 | 85 |
| Los Angeles | 58 | 85 |
| Penticton | 58 | 85 |
| Vernon | 58 | 85 |
| Nelson | 58 | 85 |
| Kaslo | 58 | 85 |
| Cranbrook | 58 | 85 |
| Calgary | 58 | 85 |
| Edmonton | 58 | 85 |
| Swift Current | 58 | 85 |
| Prince Albert | 58 | 85 |
| Qu'Appelle | 58 | 85 |
| Winnipeg | 58 | 85 |
| Moos Jaw | 58 | 85 |
| Tuesday | 58 | 85 |
| Toronto | 58 | 85 |
| Ottawa | 58 | 85 |
| Montreal | 58 | 85 |
| St. John | 58 | 85 |
| Halifax | 58 | 85 |

WEDNESDAY

Maximum 86
Minimum 58
Average 72
Minimum on the grass 49
Sunshine, 12 hours 42 minutes (Tuesday).

5 P.M. WEATHER REPORTS

Vancouver—Barometer, 29.87; calm; clear.
Victoria—Barometer, 29.86; wind, W, 6 miles; clear.
Kamloops—Barometer, 30.06; wind, N.W., 4 miles; fair.
Prince George—Barometer, 30.18; wind, N, 4 miles; clear.
Prince Rupert—Barometer, 30.10; wind, N.W., 4 miles; clear.
Estevan Point—Barometer, 29.90; wind, N.W., 4 miles; clear.
Tatoosh—Barometer, 29.86; wind, S.W., 4 miles; clear.
Portland—Barometer, 29.78; wind, W, 6 miles; clear.
Seattle—Barometer, 29.82; wind, N, 10 miles; clear.
San Francisco—Barometer, 29.86; wind, W, 14 miles; fair.

Note and Comment
By R. B. D.

Train them by every art; police every temper; America will sell his soul; buy that and mould it.

—Pope.

Readers of the newspapers who have the time or the patience to follow the curious meanderings of the various modern "movements" will have noticed that attached to almost every movement there are wings. Every political movement in every country has its right and its left wing. Even theological movements are equipped with wings. The right wing of every movement is composed of moderate elements; the left wing of every movement is made up of extreme elements. In the political life of Great Britain when the left wing of the Labor party began to flap dangerously and threaten the equilibrium of the economic and social vessel, it was found necessary to clip that wing in order to avoid a general crash in the affairs of the nation.

The Liberal political party of Canada has developed a left wing—and it is proving a very unruly member. It was for the purpose of attempting to clip the wings of the C.C.F. that Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, M.P., P.C., K.C., made a speaking tour of the West, and attempted to demonstrate that the real friend of Canada is not the Short of the right wing but the Codlin of the right wing of the Liberal party. The Liberal leader professes to fear that if the wings of the C.C.F. movement be not clipped in time disaster will fall upon Canada, but if it were possible to make any examination of the head of Mr. King the truth would be obvious that what he really fears is disaster to the Liberal party.

In conversation with a philosophical friend and acute political observer the situation in British Columbia was the subject of discussion. Speaking of wings, our friend wanted to know if we ever had seen such a bird as we have succeeded in producing in this province—a political monstrosity which is not content with two wings but which has wings sprouting all over its body, which has so exhausted its physical energies in producing wings that it has not had the strength left to produce a feather to fly with. There is going to be a mighty flop, we were told, and the responsibility will be on the head of a Mainland journalist, a scold who essayed the role of a dictator, which, proclaiming the principle that in unity there is strength, only succeeded in producing chaos worse confounded. Now anything may happen, but what already has happened is that British Columbia is the political laughing-stock of Canada. Something like that always happens when fools rush in where wise men have sense enough to keep out.

'Slams and Salaams'
(By H. T. M.)

A few months ago, a well-known Eastern professor pointed out what was an important part of the conditions played in regard to crime detection. He gave no details, nor demonstration how detectives actually mixed weather up with blood-hounds and finger-prints, etc., but he certainly intimated that many a beetle-browed "killer" had been led to the very foot of the gibbet by a gentle Sou' Wester or an April shower.

But that only excites the imagination and leaves us wondering "Dear—how can such a thing do?" which is most unfair and unsatisfactory. So, let's slip into the no-man's-land of the world's greatest sleuth (S. Holmes), and see how it feels? Let's stage a murder—a windy one—and see what happens? Are— "Dear—how can such a thing do?" pull down the shutters—and don't jump if you hear a scream in the pantry. (It will only be the maid's cucumber sandwiches.)

Hasn't! As the last, midnight clang from the old clock tower, whose black beams dripped with the blood of a thousand murders, rolled their sepulchral maledictions over the bleak, black, blistering, barbarous moor, Holmes entered the collector's room, and sat down.

The body of the collector's only son (Little Jim, naturally) lay stiff and crimson on the cold linoleum. "He dead?" Holmes asked in a thin, dry voice.

"I think so," replied the father. "His neck's broken in three places—there are eight bullet-holes through his skull, and a few through his heart."

"Quite," said Holmes. "And where is the murderer?"

"What's he doing?" Holmes' eyes narrowed to button-holes, with his question.

"Waiting some pie," the collector said softly.

"Excellent," hissed Holmes. "Lead me to him."

In the kitchen Holmes peeped palely through the doorway at a small brown man with a crooked finger on his left hand, and an enormous head to boot (not literally).

"Good evening," said Holmes.

"And good evening to you, too," returned the little brown man.

"Are you the murderer?" Holmes asked, naively, while his thin lips curled like the fins on a baby trout.

"Nay!" vowed the brown man. "Tonight, when this crime took place, I was playing snooker at Creepy Pete's. And Creepy Pete will swear to it!"

"Indeed," Holmes smiled grimly, "and what's your hat?" At that, the brown man's face dropped, and he brought his face up to his eyes, and his eyes were cold, and his mouth was a tight, tight line.

"Where's your hat?" Holmes asked.

"Ain't got one," leered the brown man.

"That's a lie!" Holmes lowered his voice to a hoarse and nearly inaudible whisper.

"How much will you bet on that?" taunted the suspect.

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts, and bit his under-lip. Outside the shanty, the gale howled and wailed like a pack of starving animals. The shanty door was ajar, and a cold wind came in, and the accused man shivered, and his teeth chattered, and he tapped the shanty door with an aesthetic flourish, and bloodied his fingers, and his face was a tight, tight line.

"Ain't got one! Ain't got one!" the brown miser whimpered.

"You lie!" yelled Holmes, and his chilly fingers closed about the accused's tremulous throat. "You're lying—nothing but foul, dastardly behavior!"

"Nerts, nerts, nerts!" pleaded the now tailow-colored brown man. "Ain't got no hat—I tell you I ain't!"

"Shut up!" snapped the great detective. "Your head's enormous—you must possess a hat!" The accused man mumbled something that might have been an oath or an imprecation of sorts,

HELD OVER

3 MORE DAYS So Everyone in Victoria Can See—

CICELY COURTNEIDGE

And EDWARD EVERETT HORTON

— In —

"Soldiers of the King"

The Greatest Laugh Hit of This British Year!

CAPITOL

"THE REBEL"

A ROMANCE OF NAPOLEON'S INVASION OF AUSTRIA

Read the World's Leading Newspaper Opinions:
"MAGNIFICENT BEYOND DESCRIPTION. TREMENDOUSLY THRILLING! VILMA BANKY DELIGHTFUL."
—Sunday Pictorial.

"TREMENDOUSLY INVIGORATING!"
—London Daily Mail.

"PHOTOGRAPHY WORTH ADMISSION PRICE ALONE!"
—Empire News.

The REBEL

Produced in the Austrian Tyrol With VILMA BANKY—LUI TRENNER—VICTOR VARCONI

"MARVELOUS"

"REMARKABLE ACTION—GORGEOUS SCENERY"
—N.Y. Daily News.

"STIRRING AND ELABORATELY DONE, MAGNIFICENT CHASERS AND THRILLING FIGHTING—WONDERFULLY DONE."
—London News-Chronicle.

"GO TO SEE 'THE REBEL' THE THEME IS STIRRING. BACKGROUNDS GLORIOUS."
—London Daily Telegraph.

Empire

TOMORROW
FRIDAY

LAST TIMES TODAY, "THE KING'S CUP"

Efficiency Shown Policing Province By Land and Water

Courage and Ability Keynotes of Fine Record of British Columbia Force Covering Difficult
Conditions and Huge Area

WITH a force of ten officers and 254 N.C.O.'s and men, the Provincial Police covered 1,968,159 miles in patrol on land, 33,385 miles in coastal waters, and an additional 9,399 miles by river craft, Colonel J. H. McMullin, commissioner of the force, discloses in his annual report to Attorney-General Pooley, for the calendar 1932. The force solved nine out of eleven murders, or attempted murders, committed during the year; kept order at a number of industrial disputes induced by agitators; policed twenty-six municipalities entirely, and found time besides to collect millions in revenue for the Province under motor vehicle and other laws.

Assistant Commissioner W. R. Dunwoody retires on pension during the year. Inspector T. W. S. Parsons, being promoted to the post of assistant commissioner, with office in Victoria. Sub-inspectors Robert Owens and J. Shitras took a step up in rank, being made inspectors of Divisions "A" and "D" respectively. Many were cited for conspicuous work, while the training school, the short-wave wireless service, the criminal investigation department, and all branches of the force gave an excellent account of themselves. Conduct and discipline throughout was reported excellent.

MENTIONED FOR MERIT
Mentioned for conspicuously good work were: Inspector J. MacDonald, Staff Sergeant A. McNeill and the men of Prince Rupert district, Constable T. Herdman, of Abbotsford, who, single-handed, captured a gang of four bandits; Constable R. A. Lees, of Hope, who arrested three armed men while alone, and Detective C. Ledoux and Constable Marcus Phipps, Vancouver, for the Smart work on the part of the Criminal Identification Branch, including successful use of finger print identification, solved a number of cases, besides being of benefit in assisting the police in both within and outside of British Columbia.

C.I.D. BRANCH WORK
Emergency squads, drawn in part from the ranks of the British Columbia police training school here, did duty at Victoria, Vancouver and other points, rendering useful service in keeping order during industrial disputes, when tempers ran high as the result of professional agitators and their operations on the scene.

During 1932, four schools were set on fire in Doukhobor areas; five separate attempts were made to derail trains or to damage Government property by explosions, and an attempt was made to blow up Peter Verigin's house. No loss of life occurred, though constant patrols were necessitated over a considerable period.

FATALITIES INCREASE
Gross revenues from the Motor Vehicle Act for the period were $1,971,604, of which $1,466,665 were collected at Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster. The Victoria responsibility clauses in the act came into operation during the year, and approximately 100 drivers' and motor vehicle licences, combined, were suspended under the law for the last four months of the year. Some 242 persons voluntarily filed proof of financial responsibility, and there was a decrease of 15 per cent in fatal accidents.

DARING DISPLAYED
Outside of the pages of the formal report there are dozens of instances

Tom Uphill Will Seek Re-Election In Fernie Riding

TOM Uphill, veteran member of British Columbia's Labor party, will be in the field again at the coming provincial election as Independent Labor candidate for Fernie. He told The Colonist yesterday, Mr. Uphill, who is in Victoria on Fernie relief problems, expressed the belief that he would have no difficulty in winning his seat in the Legislative Assembly once more.

In which the British Columbia police proved its mettle, Sergeant Greenwood, of Pouce Coupe, walked out in weather 53 degrees below zero to bring in a man, whom he had to carry for a considerable distance over the snow, and sustained a frozen leg in consequence. Several times, officers of the force walked in on armed men and arrested them without a shot being fired. Recently, after a daring break for liberty from the hands of a United States marshal while en route to Seattle, two prisoners jumped off a steamer in Seymour Narrows. They were captured by a British Columbia constable and locked up. They picked the lock, but the constable ironically placed them back under arrest again, holding them until the United States marshal arrived for his men.

Alert, efficient, and mostly six-footers, the personnel of the British Columbia police is rapidly adding to its laurels. Policing a country larger than four European national boundaries, with some 7,000 miles of waterways in addition, the British Columbia police has a unique task to perform and does it well.

RITCHIE SCHOOL OXFORDS, $3.95

For Boys and Young Men

MAYNARD'S SHOE STORE

640 Yates Street "Where Most People Trade" Phone G 6014

READ OUR ADVERTISEMENT IN TOMORROW MORNING'S COLONIST. IT MEANS MONEY SAVED FOR YOU.

United PURITY Stores

COMMERCIAL AND SOCIETY PRINTING

Modern Plant—Large and Small Presses

DIGGON-HIBBEN, LTD.

1210 Gov't St. "We Keep Our Promises" Phone G 8194

PURPLE HEATHER WOOL

New Shipment, per lb. $2.25; per oz. 15c

DICK'S

1421 DOUGLAS PHONE E 7552

DIESEL ENGINES

4 h.p. to 4,000 h.p.

For fishing boats, tugs, freight, passenger and pleasure boats, saw mills, woodworking plants, grist mills, mines, lighting and general industrial purposes.

Canadian SKF Company Limited

Montreal Toronto Winnipeg Vancouver

MILLWOOD

$3.50 Per Cord Cash
Delivered Anywhere in the City
LEMON, GONNANSON CO. LTD.

ernments in power at the present time.

"It looks like a landslide against all Governments," Mr. Bowser commented. "Any Government in power now stands, I think, a poor chance of being re-elected. The people are depressed and despondent, and want to hit at something. The Nova Scotia election gave the people there an opportunity to hit. People dissatisfied and restless seek a change. A time like this provides opportunities for parties like that led by J. S. Woodsworth, but after a time conditions readjust themselves."

What Mr. Woodsworth thinks about it will doubtless be learned when the C.C.F. leader speaks in this city on Friday night at the Chamber of Commerce.

LEGION TO PRODUCE COMEDY AT SOOKE

SOOKE, Aug. 23.—Under the auspices of the Sooke Branch of the B.E.S.L., a one-act comedy will be presented in Sooke Hall on Saturday at 8 o'clock. The play, entitled "Sad About Europe," is made up of local talent. The cast is as follows: Marshall K. Hunt, P. W. Taylor, Mrs. Marshall K. Hunt, Mrs. J. Collins, Miss Mulberry, Mrs. F. Thornber, Phoebe, Jean Thornber, Jim, H. Page. A three-piece orchestra will supply music for a dance, which is to follow.

Wife—How do you like my new hat?
Husband—I like it much better on the milliner's stand.

SPOKE TO KIWANIANS

NANAIMO, Aug. 23.—Taking as his subject, "The Ethics of Kiwanism," Rev. Mr. Harkness, of Vancouver, the guest speaker of the local Kiwanis Club at its Wednesday luncheon, gave an interesting address. He was tendered a hearty vote of thanks on behalf of the club by the president, Captain C. H. Byrne.

At the Theatres

CAPITOL

"Soldiers of the King," THEATRE now showing at the Capitol Theatre, is one of the finest British productions ever brought to Victoria. Starring Cicely Courtneidge, the story is one of romantic love between an actress and a Guards officer, defying all traditions and unwritten laws that hedge them in their respective professions. Depicting life on the stage in London, there are clever acts of comedy and burlesque with many fine songs woven into the theme.

DOMINION

"Be Mine Tonight," THEATRE the Universal production made by Gaumont, which is now at the Dominion Theatre, contains musical numbers which are sure to be real hits. The entrancing song of the picture is "Tell Me Tonight," which in the old days of pictures might have been termed the theme song. It is so in every sense of the word, for it fits into the story smoothly, naturally, perfectly promoting the action and pleasurable sensations of the audience.

Columbia Offers

The "Big Chance"

The Eagle Picture, "The Big Chance," which was open at Columbia today for a three-day run, is a sensational expose of the prize fight racket. It tells of the crooked promoters, who try to frame innocent fighters and sometimes get theirs when a real "pug" steps into the ring and shows them up as chameleons. "The Big Chance" boasts a splendid cast headed by John Darrow and Merna Kennedy. Among the supporting players are Natalie Moorhead, Mickey Rooney, Matthew Betz, J. Carroll Nash and Eleanor True Boardman. Two outstanding singing stars featured together in a motion picture—and neither sing a note! This is the situation which exists

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Capitol—"Soldiers of the King," starring Cicely Courtneidge.
Columbia—John Darrow in "The Big Chance."
Empire—"The King's Cup," featuring Dorothy Boucher.
Dominion—Kiepara in "Be Mine Tonight."
Playhouse—"Sidewalks of New York," starring Buster Keaton.

In John M. Stahl's production of

"Back Street," Universal's picture of the widely read novel by Fannie Hurst, which is the added attraction. The leading roles are played by Irene Dunne and John Boles, both of whom have gained fame as singers of unusual ability.

VILMA BANKY MAKES

SCREEN RETURN HERE

Vilma Banky, the heroine of Universal's special, "The Rebel," which is coming to the Empire Theatre tomorrow, was one of the most popular of the stars of the silent screen. Upon her marriage three years ago to Rod LaRocque, she retired from the screen. For her re-entry into pictures, Miss Banky appears opposite Luis Trenker in "The Rebel," which is produced abroad in the Austrian Tyrol. Vilma Banky was born in Hungary of a wealthy family which suffered reverses during the war. She went on the stage and attracted the attention of Samuel Goldwyn while he was abroad searching for a leading lady for Ronald Colman.

Playhouse Stars

Noted Comedian

Comical capers in a gymnasium, a screamingly funny adventure with gangsters, and a love affair that results in his trying to reform the small boys of the tenements, land Buster Keaton into hilarious troubles in his newest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, coming today to the Playhouse Theatre.

Buster plays a millionaire's son who owns blocks of tenements. He falls in love with Anita Page, a girl of the tenement district, and for her sake sets out to reform her small brother. Cliff Edwards appears as the comical valet Poggie and shares Buster's troublesome adventures.

Also on the bill is "A Study in Scarlet," starring Reginald Owen.

DOMINION TO SHOW

ARLISS ON SATURDAY

George Arliss had to master the art of writing with a quill and sander for his latest Warner Bros. picture, "Voltaire," which comes to the Dominion Theatre on Saturday.

In the title role, he writes reams of copy denouncing the tyranny of the King, Louis XV, who oppresses the people to provide funds for his court revels. The picture is a dramatic life story of the famous writer and wit who was saved from the guillotine by the King's mistress, Mme. Pompadour, a part played by Doris Kenyon.

BENEFIT REVUE TO

BE STAGED TUESDAY

The Metropolitan Players, under the personal direction of Ivo Henderson and George Roljat, will introduce to Victorians a new musical group of players, when they appear at the Shrine Auditorium next Tuesday night in a benefit musical revue, entitled, "Flashes."

The affair is being staged in aid of the local Women's Workmen and several prominent citizens have promised their patronage.

Eat to feel Fit

START the day with a bowl of crisp Kellogg's Corn Flakes and milk or cream and fruit. See how much keener, fresher you feel.

Kellogg's are rich in energy—and so easy to digest they don't "heat you up." They help you feel cooler. How much better than hot, heavy dishes.

Enjoy Kellogg's for lunch on a hot day. Fine for children's suppers. No trouble to serve. Economical. Wholesome.

Always oven-fresh in the sealed inside WAXTITE bag. Patented Easy-Open package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Kellogg's for Koolness

FIRST SHOWINGS VICTORIA

DOMINION

NOW SHOWING

THE INTERNATIONAL SENSATION

'BE MINE TONIGHT'

HUMOR! ROMANCE! RINGS! MUSIC!

Domestic Comedy Special

"TORCHES LOUD SPOOKER"

Sporting Novelty • Cartoon

"BREEZING ALONG" • "OH! GUZANNA"

DOMINION CANADIAN NEWS

GEORGE ARLISS

BRINGS TO BLAZING LIFE THE MOST INTERESTING PERSONALITY THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN

VOLTAIRE

DORA KENYON

WARRANT WINDY

THEODORE NEWTON

Coming Saturday

DOMINION

Today, Friday, Saturday

First Victoria Showing

He Branded Himself as a Fraud When He Exposed the Prizefight Ring as a Crooked Market.

The BIG CHANCE

With

MICKEY ROONEY

JOHN DARROW

MERNA KENNEDY

ADDED

One of the Greatest Novels Ever Written Made into the Greatest Woman's Picture Ever Produced!

"BACK STREET"

By

FANNIE HURST

With

JOHN BOLES

IRENE DUNNE

"Phantom of the Air"

Mats. 10c Eves. 25c

PLAYHOUSE

FIRST VICTORIA SHOWING

A STUDY IN SCARLET

Directed by EDWARD L. MARIN

Based on the famous SWERLOCK HOLMES

Adapted by

REYNOLD OWEN

JOHN CLYDE

ALLAN HUNTER

ANNA MAY WONG

Then

Buster KEATON

SIDEWALKS OF NEW YORK

Matinee 10c Eves. 25c

Coming Monday

'King Kong'

Wedding at Salspring Solemnized

At the home of her parents on Salspring Island, Myrtle Irene, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nobbs, was quietly married on Friday afternoon, August 18, to Mr. Ferguson Dunlop Reid, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Reid, of Fulford Harbor, Rev. William Allen, of Wilkeson Road Church, Victoria, formerly of Salspring Island, officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a charming gown of pale yellow georgette, and carried a bouquet of pale pink roses, pink sweet peas and lily of the valley. She was accompanied by her cousin, Mr. John Reid, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. The room was prettily decorated for the ceremony with white clematis, roses and golden glow. Following the wedding service, the bride and groom stood beneath an arch of white clematis and lily, where they received the felicitations of relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid left on their honeymoon trip to Vancouver Island, where they will spend a few days, motoring. On their return they will take up residence in their home at Fulford Harbor.

Shawigan Lake

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Martin and Miss Mary Martin are spending a holiday at the Forest Inn.

Miss O. M. Brown, of Kelowna, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. E. G. Olson.

Lieut. Colonel and Mrs. R. S. Worsley, with their daughters, Misses Mary and Winona Worsley, are staying at the Forest Inn.

Colonel L. J. Whitaker, of Victoria, was a recent visitor to Shawigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kohl, of Oak Bay, are among the guests staying at the Forest Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Penny and family have moved here from Sylvania, and have taken up residence at Fernhurst, Mill Bay Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil A. May were week-end visitors at the Forest Inn.

Metochosin

Miss K. Harte, who has been residing for the summer months with her parents at Albert Head, has left for a short visit to Metochosin as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Galt.

Mrs. T. Williamson, of Vancouver, is the guest for a short time of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, "Dotlands."

Messrs. Richard and Godfrey Johnson, of "Roedean," and party have returned from a week's fishing and camping at Sprout Lake.

Another Victoria Girl Going to Toronto

MARGUERITE VAN VOOGHTE is still another young Victoria girl leaving shortly for Toronto to study music. Miss Marguerite Van Vooght, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van Vooght, 540 Transit Road, will start on Saturday, September 2, to enter the Toronto Conservatory of Music as a student of Hildegarde Carman, and will be the youngest student in the school. Formerly a pupil of Mrs. Gertrude Huntly, Miss Van Vooght has been doing some very hard work independently since Mrs. Huntly's departure for Ontario, and as recently as last May appeared in joint recital with Mrs. Hansen at the Empress Hotel.

Qualicum Beach
Messrs. William Wright and Thomas McDonald, both of Vancouver, spent the week-end at Qualicum Beach.

Mr. O. H. Aldous has left for James Island, where he will stay for some time with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Doran.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Fraser have as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. George O'Brien, of Nanaimo, and Miss Kathleen O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Schramm, of Fernie, and Mrs. M. Campbell and daughter, of Lethbridge.

Mrs. Parker Belyea, who underwent a serious throat operation at Los Angeles last week is improving steadily.

Miss Barbara White, of Vancouver, is visiting her mother and sister, who are spending a month at Grandview Camp.

Mr. J. C. Wilson, who recently underwent an operation in Vancouver, is so much improved that he is expected home soon.

Miss Betty Birks, of Vancouver, has been the guest of Miss Jean Lowery for the past two weeks.

Be friendly. There's one bond on which you fix the rate of interest and maturity date—the bond of friendship.

Hudson's Bay Company.

INCORPORATED 2ND MAY, 1670.

Crepe de Chine Lingerie

$1.95

A second shipment of Dainty Silk Crepe Lingerie—exquisite pieces finished with cut lace—lace motifs or embroidery! Slips, teddies, sets—in white, flesh and sea rose!

Crepe de Chine Gowns and Pyjamas

$2.95

Beautifully hand embroidered and lace trimmed—regularly priced at $4.95.

Second Floor—H B C

New Suitings for Fall

WOOL PLAID SUITINGS

Inter French plaid effects, beautiful color combinations, fashion's favorite for dresses, coats and suits. 34 inches wide. Yard..... $2.50

NEW MOTTLED TWEEDS

In the popular loose weave effect—weight for suits and dresses. All wanted colorings. 36 inches wide. Yard..... 75c

NEW MANNISH TWEEDS

Shown in the new tan, brown and grey mixtures—the smart tweeds for Fall and Winter coats. 34 inches wide. Yard..... $1.95

WOOL ANGOLAINE

Light-weight wool fabrics in the popular diagonal weave—full range of the newest colors. 36 inches wide. Yard..... $1.00

Main Floor—H B C

THE NEW PATTERNS

We carry a complete selection of Butterick, Vogue, Pictorial and Chaitaine Patterns in all the newest styles! Mezzanine Floor—H B C

Home-Furnishing Specials

5-PIECE BEDROOM SUITES

New designs, with beautiful and engraved Venetian style mirrors, and finest quality matched built in wardrobes. Dressing, chiffoniers, vanity and wash and full size bed. Regular $179.50

CHESTERFIELD SUITES

Suites that are built to give the best of service with all hand-tied springs and best quality materials. Covered in plain and figured tapes. Price $129.50

Fourth Floor—H B C

DRAPEY SILKS

Beautiful quality factory short ends of Drapery Silks at exactly half price! Lengths vary from 3 to 15 yards—all 50 inches wide. Fancy weaves and rich color. Yard..... $1.49

MADRAS AND NETS

100 Sample Ends of Madras and Nets—all useful pieces! Attractive early and look them over! They'll sell quickly at this exceptionally low price! Free

10c

INLAID LINOLEUM

Superior Quality Inlaid Linoleum, in smart new patterns and latest combination color effects, showing many entirely new designs. Will give splendid wear and last long satisfaction. Square yard..... $1.15

FLEET NET CURTAINS

Neat designs, in ivory shade only. Attractive and dainty in design. Specially good value at this exceptionally low price! 38 inches wide and 2 1/2 yards long. Pair..... $1.25

Third Floor—H B C

August Coat Sale

New Fall and Winter Styles!

STARTS TODAY

Fur-Trimmed Coats and Fur Coats at Prices That Say "Buy Now!"

Foremost in fashion! Foremost in fabrics! Foremost in fur trims! And special low prices for our August Sale! That tells the story. That's why you should buy now! These Coats are of lovely new suede and spongy woolsens, luxuriously fur-trimmed, and with lovely linings. Sizes for women and misses, and women's half sizes!

New Colors!

Black Brown Taupe
Blue Green Wine

New Cloths!

Suede Nubby Weaves
Cords Tweeds

New Fur Trimmings!

Beaver De Luxe Kolinsky Squirrel
Alaska Sable Fox
Wolf American Opossum
French Seal Raccoon

A $25.00 Value. $17.95
August Sale Price.

A $35.00 Value. $27.95
August Sale Price.

A $45.00 Value. $37.95
August Sale Price.

August Savings in Fine Furs

Advance Winter Styles! They Will Cost You More After September 1

Prices are definitely rising! Already there have been sharp advances in the price of raw furs and in labor costs too! No better opportunity for saving has presented itself for a long time, because we bought before the advance and the difference we pass on to you. As a word of good advice—and as a warning—we say emphatically—BUY NOW!

LASKIN LAMB COATS

Logwood shade, in full length, wrap-around style! Crushable collar and lined with silk crepe. Sizes 16 to 40. August Sale Price..... $39.50

HUDSON SEAL COATS

Fine quality, glossy skins, with crushable or scarf collars. Lined with satin crepe brocade. Sizes 16 to 40. August Sale Price..... $159.50

HUDSON SEAL COATS

Hudson Seal (dyed muskrat) Coats, of extra fine, carefully selected skins and new sleeve treatments. Sizes 16 to 40. August Sale Price..... $195.00

LAPIN AND KID CARACUL COATS

Stunning Coats, in full-length style, of lapin and kid caracul—black, beige, logwood and grey. August Sale Price..... $75.00

A small deposit will secure any coat for later delivery. Free storage in our cold air vaults, until you want to wear it. Deferred payments may be arranged!

Second Floor—H B C

Stylemode Shoes

With the Natural Arch Support!

For High School Miss - University Student - Business Girl
Buy These Shoes Now—They're Going to Cost You More Later—Prices on All Leathers Are Advancing!

Combined buying with our other branches enables us to offer these wonderful Shoes at an exceptional price! Black and Brown Calf Oxford Ties with walking heels—Black and Brown Calf Brogues—Two-Tone Brown and Elk Oxfords with leather soles and rubber heels, in fittings AA to D and sizes 3 to 9..... $6

Main Floor—H B C

FASHION-WISE WOMEN SHOP AT "THE BAY"

HBC GROCETERIA CARRY AND SAVE

For Real Values—Shop in Our Quality Food Market. Orders Carried to Your Car Free. These Specials in Sections 11 and 15.

EXTRA SPECIALS

Peas' Bran Flakes, Large pkt. 11c
Peas' Bran Flakes, Small pkt. 5c
Peas' Bran Flakes, 3 pkts. for 25c
Grain-Nuts Flakes, pkt. 10c

Corn, Royal City White, 2 lbs. 19c
Peas and Beans, Libby's, 1 lb. 4c
Peas, Campbell's Assorted, 3 lbs. 25c
Tamales, C. & B., large bottle for 27c

Columbian Green Peas, 1 lb. 3c
Limited quantity, order early

Loavesberries, Assorted, new season's pack, 2 1/2 lbs. 16c
3 lbs. for 45c

Red Pitted Cherries, Nabob, 2 1/2 lbs. 11c
Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

Peas, Libby's Brand, 1 lb. 4c
3 lbs. for 12c

What Today Means

"VIRGO"

If August 24 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 to 10:15 a.m., from 4:30 to 5:40 p.m., and from 8 to 8:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 11 a.m. to 12 noon, and from 6:15 to 7:30 p.m.

Things will probably not run smoothly on this date, either at the office or in the home. There will be many interruptions and disturbances that will tend to slow up progress. Advance will be made only by those who go off by themselves and work in solitude. The presence of children will be particularly felt.

The child born on this August 24 will more than likely not be one to deceive his parents. When in trouble, he will always seek them out and give them his confidence. If you wish to keep on good terms with this little one, do not seek to rule him from afar, but treat him as an equal, as a little pal.

If August 24 is the date of your birth, you are perhaps a person who is always in a hurry and as a result are not as thorough as you might be in carrying out your duties. You have many fine qualities, good judgment, the ability to think straight and to reason well, and vision. But these qualities you do not develop to the fullest, simply because you will not take the time to do so. You do a lot of talking as you go along, much of it meaningless or pure nonsense, but withal, you accomplish a good deal of good. You have many friends, really fine ones, and you take great pride in them. You, however, do not enjoy them to the fullest, for in trying to keep in touch with them all you keep yourself on the go all the time. There would seem to be a good deal of nerve energy in your make-up; you must learn repose, and also, you must learn to appreciate the value of quiet thought and peaceful meditation.

Born on August 24, you like to play and you enjoy relaxation of all kinds. You are intense about all that you do and more than likely you go in for strenuous games and sports. Travel more than likely has a strong appeal to you and when you are on a journey you like to keep moving and fast. You do not get the benefit from travel that many do, but at that you are alert and mis little. In matters of love, you are inclined to be impetuous and too quick to declare yourself. Unless you take care, your marriage may go on the rocks.

David, who just recently started going to school, feels that any combination of letters should spell a word. He had been coming in and asking his mother what "obi" or "wpe" might spell. Each time his mother's answer had been "nothing."

"Mother," he said, later, "what does i-n-g spell?"

"Nothing," rejoined mother, as usual.

"Boy!" David exclaimed, "I never saw so many ways to spell 'nothing' in all my life."

LESTER PATRICK IS GIVEN GREAT SEND-OFF

Local Stars Reach Finals of Junior Tourney at Duncan

Victorians Work Way to Last Bracket in British Columbia and Island Tennis Tournament—Forty-Seven Matches Played

DUNCAN, Aug. 23.—Play for the British Columbia and Island championships for juniors at the Duncan tennis courts went forward briskly today, forty-seven matches being played, exclusive of consolation. Except for the matches of Stan Hayden and Eleanor Young, of Vancouver, who won all their games with ease, play was very keen and excellent tennis seen.

In the girls under eighteen, Eleanor Young meets a local girl, Neta Ellis. The boys under eighteen will be an all-Vancouver affair, Hayden meeting the clever little Japanese, Iwasaki, who took three sets to dispose of Bill Swan, who in his turn took the measure of Doug Peden, Victoria, in two tight sets, 7-5, 6-4.

Hayden and Eleanor Young are favored to final in the mixed doubles, meeting a Victoria pair, the winners of Fairbairn and Kay Grogan and Peden and Pat Radford. The girls under sixteen will also be an all-Vancouver event, Marjorie Unsworth meeting Kay Grogan.

In the boys under sixteen a Duncan, Gordon Whan, scored a fine victory over A. Reid, of Seattle, and a Byron Page, also of Seattle, tomorrow.

The under fifteen classes feature Duncan and Victoria players in the girls' events when Kathleen Staples plays Violet Paget-Mellor and Gordon Whan meets A. Zion, of Vancouver.

Kathleen Staples also is a finalist in the under fourteen singles, the under fourteen doubles, and with her twin brother, in the under fourteen mixed.

GIRLS' SINGLES (Under 18)
Grace Longbourne beat Joyce Gooding, 6-3, 6-3.
Neta Ellis beat Zeta Allen, 6-1, 2-6, 6-4.

Semi-Finals
Neta Ellis beat Grace Longbourne, 6-3, 7-5.
Eleanor Young beat Pat Radford, 6-1, 6-2.

BOYS' SINGLES (Under 18)
Stan Hayden beat Sid McAllister, 6-1, 6-2.
J. Walters beat N. McGregor, 8-6, 2-6, 9-7.
W. Swan beat Doug Peden, 7-5, 6-4.

Semi-Finals
Iwasaki beat Swan, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4.
Hayden beat Pat Radford, 6-1, 6-2.

MIXED DOUBLES (Under 18)
Waters and Ham Thwaites beat Hoey and Joyce Gooding, 4-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Hayden and Eleanor Young beat Alder and Grace Longbourne, 6-1, 6-2.

GIRLS' DOUBLES (Under 18)
Neta Ellis and Grace Longbourne beat Pat Radford and Esme Muttter, 6-4, 6-1.

Semi-Finals
Eleanor Young and Neta Ellis beat Joyce Gooding and Zeta Allen, 6-4, 6-1.

BOYS' DOUBLES (Under 18)
Hayden and Peden beat Swan and Waters, 6-3, 6-4.

McGregor and Iwasaki beat Alder and Whan, 6-4, 6-3.

GIRLS' SINGLES (Under 16)
Marjorie Unsworth beat Lily Barnes, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4.

Semi-Finals
Marjorie Unsworth beat Dot Hardy, 6-4, 6-4.

Kay Grogan beat Kathleen Staples, 6-4, 6-2.

BOYS' SINGLES (Under 16)
Gordon Whan beat E. M. Williams, 6-2, 6-4.

R. Reid beat Paul Alder, 11-9, 6-4.

Byron Page beat W. Giles, 6-1, 6-2.

J. Crawford beat Clifton McQueen, 6-3, 6-2.

Semi-Finals
Gordon Whan beat A. Reid, 6-2, 8-6.

Byron Page beat J. Crawford, 6-0, 7-5.

GIRLS' SINGLES (Under 15)
Violet Paget-Mellor beat Suzanne Hadwen, 6-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Semi-Finals
Kathleen Staples beat Diana Stanier, 6-4, 6-8, 8-6.

Violet Paget-Mellor beat Dot Hardy, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3.

BOYS' SINGLES (Under 15)
G. Whan beat Clive McQueen, 6-2, 6-2.

A. Zion beat Tony Staples, 6-3, 6-4.

GIRLS' DOUBLES (Under 15)
Dot Hardy and Diana Stanier beat G. and V. Paget-Mellor, 6-1, 6-2.

BOYS' DOUBLES (Under 15)
K. Milligan and Lee Ross beat R. Thwaites and D. W. Grose, 6-8, 6-4, 6-1.

Semi-Finals
Clive and Clifton McQueen beat Milligan and Lee Ross, 6-4, 6-3.

Staples and Whan beat Grogan and Jeaphon, 6-1, 6-2.

GIRLS' SINGLES (Under 14)
Kathleen Staples beat Esme Kitchen, 6-1, 6-2.

Diana Stanier beat Suzanne Hadwen, 6-3, 6-4.

BOYS' SINGLES (Under 14)
A. Zion beat Jim Mainguy, 6-0, 6-0.

A. Wilson beat John Dick, 6-1, 6-1.

Semi-Finals
Tony Staples beat A. Zion, 7-5, 6-1.

A. Wilson beat J. Grogan, 6-2, 6-3.

GIRLS' DOUBLES (Under 14)
Esme Kitchen and Diana Stanier beat Milligan and Fox and Shirley Gooding, 6-1, 6-1.

Kathleen Staples and Suzanne

Island Softball Play-Offs Open In City Tonight

THE opening game of the Vancouver Island softball play-offs will take place this evening at the Upper Central Park when Shawinigan Lake, present titleholders, tackle Macdonald's Service Station, city champions, in the first of a two-out-of-three series, at 6:15 o'clock. Bob Whyte and Terry Giesse, of Shawinigan Lake, will handle the bat, while Edgar Borge will handle the mound. One of the biggest crowds in local history is expected to head for the local field to witness the battle. Elmer Evans will pitch for the visitors, while Chuck Turner will take the mound for Macdonald's.

McCarthy, Hornsby Meet

JOE McCarthy and Rogers Hornsby, supposed to have been antagonists during McCarthy's regime as manager of the Chicago Cubs, met again in a ball park—and chat like friends. When McCarthy was ousted as Cub pilot, Hornsby succeeded him. Joe is now manager of the New York Yankees, while Rogers is piloting the St. Louis Browns in the same big league.

Onward March of English Players Features Tourney

Five of British Empire Teams Advance in U.S. Doubles by Fine Victories—Ellsworth Vines, Keith Gledhill Advance

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 23 (AP).—Officials directing the United States tennis doubles championship at Longwood, today, won a costly victory over fog and rain, as they drove the field into the quarter-finals. The onward march of British teams featured the play.

Although playing under decidedly adverse conditions, Ellsworth Vines and Keith Gledhill, defending U.S. champions, managed to get three match points in their first round play, but were defeated by Jack Crawford and Vivian McGrath. The five British Empire teams completed the second round with only one reversal.

The premier Australian team, managed by Jack Crawford and Vivian McGrath, stopped Berkeley Bell and Gregory Martin, fifth seeded United States pair, in 6-3, 6-3, 7-5. Fred Perry, British Davis Cup ace, and chunky Frank H. D. Wilde, overwhelmed Clifford Smith and Eugene McCaulif, United States indoor champion, 6-4, 6-3, 14-12.

The other Aussies, Adrian Quist and Don Turnbull, played in decisive fashion to trounce Henry Culley and Joe Coughlin, young Californians, by 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, and S. P. Young and D. S. Freshwater, British collegians, managed to get three match points on Frank X. Shields and Frankie Parker before that fourth-seeded American team clinched its 6-0, 6-8, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5 victory.

Vines and Gledhill—the latter playing in his bare feet—defeated Bryan Grant, Atlanta, and Karl Kramath, Houston, 6-2, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4. Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn won over Watson Washburn and A. McPherson, New York, 6-2, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3.

The second seeded British team, H. G. N. Lee and E. R. Avery, were eliminated, 7-5, 5-7, 8-6, 6-1, in second round play by Jack Crawford and Vivian McGrath.

Gene Mako, of the Los Angeles team, was defeated by the British pair, 6-4, 6-3, 14-12.

The other Aussies, Adrian Quist and Don Turnbull, played in decisive fashion to trounce Henry Culley and Joe Coughlin, young Californians, by 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, and S. P. Young and D. S. Freshwater, British collegians, managed to get three match points on Frank X. Shields and Frankie Parker before that fourth-seeded American team clinched its 6-0, 6-8, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5 victory.

Vines and Gledhill—the latter playing in his bare feet—defeated Bryan Grant, Atlanta, and Karl Kramath, Houston, 6-2, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4. Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn won over Watson Washburn and A. McPherson, New York, 6-2, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3.

The second seeded British team, H. G. N. Lee and E. R. Avery, were eliminated, 7-5, 5-7, 8-6, 6-1, in second round play by Jack Crawford and Vivian McGrath.

Gene Mako, of the Los Angeles team, was defeated by the British pair, 6-4, 6-3, 14-12.

The other Aussies, Adrian Quist and Don Turnbull, played in decisive fashion to trounce Henry Culley and Joe Coughlin, young Californians, by 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, and S. P. Young and D. S. Freshwater, British collegians, managed to get three match points on Frank X. Shields and Frankie Parker before that fourth-seeded American team clinched its 6-0, 6-8, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5 victory.

Vines and Gledhill—the latter playing in his bare feet—defeated Bryan Grant, Atlanta, and Karl Kramath, Houston, 6-2, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4. Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn won over Watson Washburn and A. McPherson, New York, 6-2, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3.

The second seeded British team, H. G. N. Lee and E. R. Avery, were eliminated, 7-5, 5-7, 8-6, 6-1, in second round play by Jack Crawford and Vivian McGrath.

Gene Mako, of the Los Angeles team, was defeated by the British pair, 6-4, 6-3, 14-12.

The other Aussies, Adrian Quist and Don Turnbull, played in decisive fashion to trounce Henry Culley and Joe Coughlin, young Californians, by 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, and S. P. Young and D. S. Freshwater, British collegians, managed to get three match points on Frank X. Shields and Frankie Parker before that fourth-seeded American team clinched its 6-0, 6-8, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5 victory.

Vines and Gledhill—the latter playing in his bare feet—defeated Bryan Grant, Atlanta, and Karl Kramath, Houston, 6-2, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4. Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn won over Watson Washburn and A. McPherson, New York, 6-2, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3.

The second seeded British team, H. G. N. Lee and E. R. Avery, were eliminated, 7-5, 5-7, 8-6, 6-1, in second round play by Jack Crawford and Vivian McGrath.

Gene Mako, of the Los Angeles team, was defeated by the British pair, 6-4, 6-3, 14-12.

Miss Britain III Will Make Trial Run at Michigan

ALCONAC, Mich., Aug. 23 (CP).—Hubert Scott-Paine's Harroworth challenger, the Miss Britain III, will take to the water for a trial run Thursday with its tanks filled with "home-made" fuel. Due to a delay in the shipment to the United States of the special British gasoline used in the craft's high-compression power plant, Scott-Paine today had secured the formula for the fuel and prepared to mix it from available American brands.

The fuel for the British challenger is on a boat en route to the United States and is not expected to arrive at Algonac until the second day of the race.

A chemist is flying to Algonac from the company's America headquarters at St. Louis to help mix the special fuel.

CHURCHMEN DOWN LOCAL CRICKET XI

C's and Fairfield Win From Victoria and Hudson's Bay Elevens

LEAGUE STANDING

Five C's 3 2 1 10
Victoria 3 2 0 9
Fairfield 2 3 1 7
Hudson's Bay 2 3 0 6

Although they dropped a 178-127 decision to the Five C's, yesterday afternoon, at Beacon Hill grounds, Victoria remained in the scramble for the Wednesday Cricket League championship. A win next week against Hudson's Bay will give the local squad the championship, while a defeat will mean the honors pass along to the churchmen. In the second game, played yesterday, Fairfield won from Hudson's Bay by a 106-70 score.

Pendray and Reg Wood added 80 runs for the Five C's during the sixth wicket partnership. Barber, Starkey, Moffatt and Cox batted well for Victoria. The Five C's fielding was another highlight of their scores follow:

Five C's
Slocumb, c. Cox, b. Moffatt 14
Pillar, run out 12
Sanderson, run out 9
Eric Quantin, b. Cox 3
Pendray, b. Moffatt 3
Smith, b. Drum 3
Wood, run out 3
Adie, c. Poyntz, b. Cox 4
Fitch, b. Moffatt 2
Overton, b. Cox 2
Freeman, not out 17
Extras 17
Total 178

Victoria
Sparks, c. Pendray, b. Smith 3
Poyntz, c. Slocumb, b. Quantin 3
Barber, c. Starkey, b. Pendray 37
Peberry, b. Quantin 4
Cox, c. Overton, b. Smith 29
Graddock, b. Pendray 29
Sharp, b. Pendray 11
Moffatt, b. Pendray 11
Drum, b. Smith 1
Pillar, not out 2
Extras 2
Total 127

Five C's Bowling Analysis
O W R
Moffatt 11 3 49
Sparks 8 27
Drum 5 1 33
Poyntz 5 2 34
Pendray 2 18
Victoria
O W R
Quantin 9 2 46
Peberry 11 3 36
Pendray 9 5 39
Extras 7

Fairfield
Kinch, b. Payne 13
Turner, c. Shrimpton, b. Payne 11
Fletcher, c. Shrimpton, b. Hanson 32
Bradford, c. Shrimpton, b. Hanson 17
Payne, b. Hanson 0
Attwell, c. Oskman, b. Hanson 12
Moffatt, c. Oskman, b. Baker 1
Baker, c. Pearce 11
Langley, run out 3
Scaife, b. Hanson 2
Branley, not out 2
Moore, b. Payne 0
Extras 7
Total 70

Is Purchased by Chicago Cubs

George Haslem, popular newspaper cartoonist for The Colonist, has just returned from Harrison Lake, where he attended the International Outboard Regatta, and was honored by Sprules, a renowned Pacific Coast race driver, who made him his assistant. The trip to and from Harrison Lake was made by young Haslem on his racing bicycle. Haslem is a member of the local bicycle racing crowd.

Standings

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Washington 78 40 661
New York 69 47 595
Cleveland 63 60 512
Detroit 61 61 300
Philadelphia 57 59 491
Chicago 54 63 471
Boston 49 70 412
St. Louis 44 77 364

NATIONAL LEAGUE

New York 60 43 616
Boston 56 53 559
Chicago 62 53 559
St. Louis 64 55 538
Pittsburgh 62 54 534
Philadelphia 48 64 429
Brooklyn 45 65 409
Cincinnati 44 72 379

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

Newark 85 97 599
Rochester 78 66 345
Baltimore 74 68 521
Toronto 73 71 307
Albany 68 73 486
Buffalo 69 74 483
Montreal 66 75 468
Jersey City 56 87 292

COAST LEAGUE

Los Angeles 85 97 599
Hollywood 83 58 580
Portland 81 59 579
Sacramento 81 61 570
Oakland 66 75 488
San Francisco 69 83 413
Mission 57 85 401
Seattle 52 87 374

Captured Junior Net Championship

LILY BARNES
Fifteen-year-old tennis star, who is rapidly making great strides towards the top and will soon be heard from in major events in the province. She won the city junior crown for girls under sixteen at the Willow Lake tournament by defeating Violet Muttter in straight sets, and lost a tough match to Mary Gray in the girls under sixteen class in three sets. Miss Barnes is at present taking part in the junior tournament at Duncan for the British Columbia and Vancouver Island championships.

BOYS' SINGLES (Under 16)
Stan Hayden beat Sid McAllister, 6-1, 6-2.

J. Walters beat N. McGregor, 8-6, 2-6, 9-7.

W. Swan beat Doug Peden, 7-5, 6-4.

Semi-Finals
Iwasaki beat Swan, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4.

Hayden beat Pat Radford, 6-1, 6-2.

GIRLS' DOUBLES (Under 16)
Neta Ellis and Grace Longbourne beat Pat Radford and Esme Muttter, 6-4, 6-1.

Semi-Finals
Eleanor Young and Neta Ellis beat Joyce Gooding and Zeta Allen, 6-4, 6-1.

BOYS' DOUBLES (Under 16)
Hayden and Peden beat Swan and Waters, 6-3, 6-4.

McGregor and Iwasaki beat Alder and Whan, 6-4, 6-3.

GIRLS' SINGLES (Under 14)
Marjorie Unsworth beat Lily Barnes, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4.

Semi-Finals
Marjorie Unsworth beat Dot Hardy, 6-4, 6-4.

Kay Grogan beat Kathleen Staples, 6-4, 6-2.

BOYS' SINGLES (Under 14)
Gordon Whan beat E. M. Williams, 6-2, 6-4.

R. Reid beat Paul Alder, 11-9, 6-4.

Byron Page beat W. Giles, 6-1, 6-2.

J. Crawford beat Clifton McQueen, 6-3, 6-2.

Semi-Finals
Gordon Whan beat A. Reid, 6-2, 8-6.

Byron Page beat J. Crawford, 6-0, 7-5.

GIRLS' SINGLES (Under 13)
Violet Paget-Mellor beat Suzanne Hadwen, 6-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Semi-Finals
Kathleen Staples beat Diana Stanier, 6-4, 6-8, 8-6.

Violet Paget-Mellor beat Dot Hardy, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3.

BOYS' SINGLES (Under 13)
G. Whan beat Clive McQueen, 6-2, 6-2.

A. Zion beat Tony Staples, 6-3, 6-4.

GIRLS' DOUBLES (Under 13)
Dot Hardy and Diana Stanier beat G. and V. Paget-Mellor, 6-1, 6-2.

BOYS' DOUBLES (Under 13)
K. Milligan and Lee Ross beat R. Thwaites and D. W. Grose, 6-8, 6-4, 6-1.

Semi-Finals
Clive and Clifton McQueen beat Milligan and Lee Ross, 6-4, 6-3.

Staples and Whan beat Grogan and Jeaphon, 6-1, 6-2.

GIRLS' SINGLES (Under 12)
Kathleen Staples beat Esme Kitchen, 6-1, 6-2.

Diana Stanier beat Suzanne Hadwen, 6-3, 6-4.

BOYS' SINGLES (Under 12)
A. Zion beat Jim Mainguy, 6-0, 6-0.

A. Wilson beat John Dick, 6-1, 6-1.

Semi-Finals
Tony Staples beat A. Zion, 7-5, 6-1.

A. Wilson beat J. Grogan, 6-2, 6-3.

GIRLS' DOUBLES (Under 12)
Esme Kitchen and Diana Stanier beat Milligan and Fox and Shirley Gooding, 6-1, 6-1.

Kathleen Staples and Suzanne

HEINIE MANUSH HITTING HARD

Washington Sluggers Pound Out Three Safeties to Move Ahead of Al Simmons

Heinie Manush, continuing his heavy slugging, yesterday pounded out four hits in a double-header to climb into second place in the American League's half of baseball's Big Six. He displaced Al Simmons, who collected but one single in seven trips to the plate. As a result, the Washington veteran sent his average up one point to .342, while Simmons lost three, falling to .341. The remainder of the sextette were idle.

HOME RUN STANDINGS
Home runs yesterday—Berger, 2; Watkins, Cardinals, 1; Kress, White Sox, 1.

The leaders—Fox, Athletics, 36; Ruth, Yankees, 28; Berger, Braves, 24; Klein, Phillies, 23; Gehrig, Yankees, 22.

League totals—American, 491; National, 359; total, 850.

Greyhound Races To Start Soon on Mainland Course

VANCOUVER, Wash., Aug. 23 (AP).—Greyhound racing, with the option system of wagering, will start here within two weeks, officials of the newly-organized Vancouver Kennel Club said today.

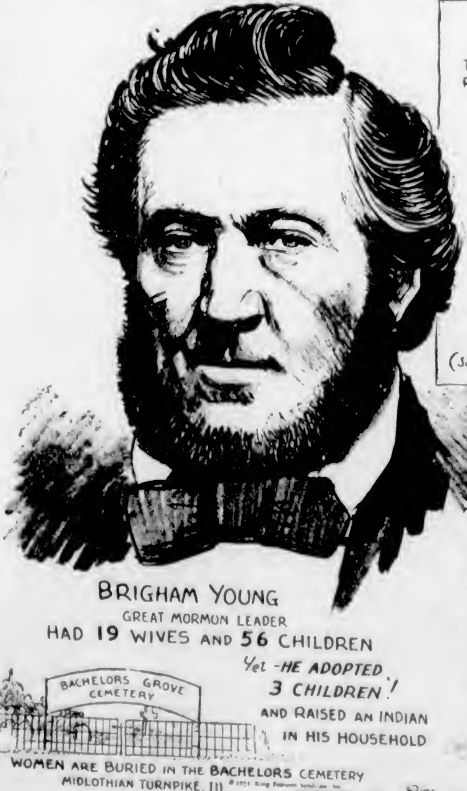

A contract was let last night for the construction of a dog track at Bagley Park, within the present workmen was on the ground today. The work of constructing the track and repairing and remodeling the grandstand will cost about $15,000.

Parl-mutuel dog wagering is not legal under Washington statutes, although such betting is permitted at horse races.

THE REASON
"You have been in this telephone booth half an hour with the receiver in your hand and have not spoken a word."

"I know. I was talking to my wife."

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

BRIGHAM YOUNG
GREAT MORMON LEADER
HAD 19 WIVES AND 56 CHILDREN
Yet HE ADOPTED
3 CHILDREN!
AND RAISED AN INDIAN
IN HIS HOUSEHOLD

WOMEN ARE BURIED IN THE BACHELORS CEMETERY
MIDLOTHIAN TURNPIKE, III

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
Literature and Paternity—Andre Tiraqueau, famous French Governor and jurist, 1480-1558, gave his country a book and a child every year for the last thirty years of his life. Fourteen of these books are still in existence, and eleven of his children married celebrities of French history. Tiraqueau was a stern teetotaler, "but for which" a contemporary poet said—"he would have filled the world with books and Tiraqueaus."

Please address all queries to Cartoonist Ripley, c/o King Features, New York City, N.Y.

THE SAP IN A TREE DOES NOT RISE IN THE SPRING

BRVES NOSE OUT CARDINALS TO HOLD POSITION

Pair of Home Runs By Wally Berger Deciding Factor

Blasts Two Ruthian Blows Out of Park to Give Boston 4-3 Win Over St. Louis in Pennant Chase—Senators Split Twin Bill—Yankees Lose to Indians

NATIONAL LEAGUE
BOSTON, Aug. 23 (AP).—With Wally Berger's big bat blasting out the winning run for the second successive day, Boston Braves today strengthened their hold on second place, defeating St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 in the first of a three-game series played in misadventure. Berger, hitting his twenty-third and twenty-fourth home runs of the season to capture the lead in the National League from Chuck Klein, drove in all of Boston's runs.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
DETROIT, Aug. 23 (AP).—After outstanding work by Tommy Bridges on the mound and at bat had won the opening engagement, 1-0, double-header with Washington, 2-1. Detroit Tigers today suffered a return of their pitching weakness and the Senators won the closing game 9-5.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23 (AP).—Boston Red Sox losing streak was extended to nine straight games today when they were held to seven hits in a double-header and Chicago White Sox swept a twin bill 3-1 and 12-1. Sam Jones held them to three hits in the opener, while Ed Durham pitched a four-hitter in the nightcap and was deprived of a shutout only when Kress and Simmons committed errors after two were out in the ninth.

Remember When

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

The Curtis and Harvey and Dupont trophies competitions took place on Sunday last under the joint auspices of the Victoria and Capital Gun Clubs at Langford Plains. There was a large attendance and both contests were entered by more aspirants than in the case in connection with any shoot yet held here this season. W. P. Lenfestey won the Curtis and Harvey Cup with a score of 41, out of a possible 50, while Mansell and Leavell obtained scores of 40. Leavell had the highest average of the three and took the Dupont prize. In the Weiler Cup event, Lenfestey and Leavell, shooting from the eighteen-yard mark, brought down thirty-three clay birds during the afternoon and marks the closing of the 1928 season.

Reporters from Sydney, Australia, states that Tommy Burns, world's heavyweight champion, was defeated by Bill Squires, the Australian, by knocking him out in the thirteenth round of a fast battle, which was witnessed by 20,000 spectators. The boxer issued the challenge to Squires through these columns some weeks ago, and now everything is all set for the clash.

A fifteen-round bout has been finally arranged between H. Warburton and T. Saunders, here, Labor Day, at the Drill Hall, in James Bay. Final articles will be signed this evening at a meeting of the fighters and their managers. Both boxers have been working out regularly and will report the day of the fight in first class condition. Warburton issued the challenge to Saunders through these columns some weeks ago, and now everything is all set for the clash.

The bankers' annual tennis tournament, which has been in progress

MANHOOD, HOW REGAINED
 And An Urinary Ill of Men
 Take Our HERBAL REMEDIES
 Root on "How to Obtain True Manhood" and "Tie of Men" with testimonials and advice, in plain English. Free by Mail. Advice free.
 For Appointment, P.O. Triality 5613
ENGLISH HERBAL DISPENSARY, LTD.
 1309 David St. Vancouver, B.C.
 Established 10 Years in Vancouver

SALE MEN'S SUITS
 Very Special Bargains
$16.50 $19.50
 Tweeds Worsted
 Light and Dark
Price & Smith, Ltd.
 614 Yates Street

Henri Cochet to Enter Pro Ranks Late Next Month

PARIS, Aug. 23 (CP).—Reports Henri Cochet, fading French Davis Cup star, would turn professional were revised today and it was said he would make his first professional start in a Franco-American professional tournament September 22.

ORGANERY IN FINE VICTORY AT BRIGHOUSE

Scores Fourth Straight Victory on Mainland Track in Feature Event

VANCOUVER, Aug. 23 (CP).—Orangery, crack sprinter from the Hamber Stables, tucked up her fourth consecutive victory at Brighouse Park today in winning the British Guild Players' Handicap, feature event on the programme. The Hamber entry, a two-year-old, was a length ahead of Puuko. Kojl was third.

It was the first time this season that any horse has finished first in four straight events. The Eastern Canadian-bred Budover breezed home two lengths ahead of the field to take the second heat of the day. After allowing Bright Hope, the favorite, to set the pace for half the distance, Budover went out in front and was never in doubt.

MAJOR LEAGUE LEADERS
NATIONAL LEAGUE
 Batting—Klein, Phillies, .373.
 Runs—Martin, Cardinals, 94.
 Hits—Klein, Phillies, 168.
 Doubles—Klein, Phillies, 36.
 Triples—Vaughan, Pirates, 17.
 Home Runs—Klein, Phillies, 23.
 Stolen Bases—Martin, Cardinals, 10.
AMERICAN LEAGUE
 Batting—Fox, Athletics, .360.
 Runs—Gehrig, Yankees, 106.
 Hits—Gehrig, Yankees, 126.
 Doubles—Burns, Browns, 40.
 Triples—Combs, Yankees, 13.
 Home Runs—Fox, Athletics, 36.
 Stolen Bases—Walker, Tigers, and Chapman, Yankees, 20.
 Pitching—Whitehill, Senators, 17-6.

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK

By R. J. Scott

THE SWISS HAVE NO NATIONAL LANGUAGE. FRENCH, GERMAN AND ITALIAN ARE SPOKEN.

TO SETTLE A LAWSUIT IN NORTH SIAM BOTH PARTIES ARE PUT UNDER WATER, AND THE ONE STAYING UNDER THE LONGER WINS THE SUIT!

EDGAR ALLAN POE WAS DISMISSED FROM WEST POINT BECAUSE HE APPEARED AT DRESS PARADE MINUS HIS TROUSERS.

THE OYSTER CATCHER OPENS CLAMS AND OYSTERS WITH HIS BILL.

BEES ARE GUIDED BY ODOR. A FRENCH SCIENTIST THEY WILL OFTEN PASS SCENTLESS FLOWERS, STORED WITH HONEY FOR ONE HAVING A SWEET PERFUME AND LITTLE SUGAR.

SPORT SNAPSHOTS

Title Doubles—Helen Wills Moody and Elizabeth Ryan defeat another pair in doubles title tourney clash.

War Canoe Race—Indian war canoes race during water festival near Seattle, Wash. The Nookack Indians win.

Annual Regatta at Bay Is Witnessed By Crowd of 2,000

MORE than 2,000 persons gathered at Cordova Bay yesterday where the annual bay regatta was held. Featured on the afternoon's programme was the sea-flea race in which Kermit Cameron, junior reporter of The Colonist, failed to smash the world's outdoor speed record because of a blown motor. A long programme of land and sea sports were staged. Following the programme community singing was held and the children presented a lantern parade under the auspices of the Shantymen's Association. Dances at numerous spots along the beach concluded the day's activities.

CUBS' OWNER IS BACKED UP

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (AP).—Strong support developed today for William L. Veeck's proposal that baseball interest be revived through a series of inter-league games in mid-season, and assured the scheme of thorough discussion before the 1934 season begins.

ENGLISH CRICKET

LONDON, Aug. 23 (CP).—Closing scores in first-class county cricket matches, getting under way today:

Derbyshire, 132 (Judge five for 27); Middlesex, 145 (eight; at Lords).

Surrey, 356 for four (Squires 178); against Yorkshire: at the Oval.

Worcestershire, 100 and 8 for no wickets; Berks six for 55; Hampshire, 99 (Brook six for 39); at Bournemouth.

Warwickshire, 315 for six (Alec 124); against Gloucestershire: at Bristol.

Sussex, 245; Leicestershire, 12 for no wickets; at Eastbourne.

Lancashire, 205; Essex, 62 for four wickets; at Liverpool.

Nottinghamshire, 331 for eight wickets; against Northamptonshire: at Nottingham.

No species of spider has wings and therefore no member of this insect-like family of creatures can fly.

Play Opens in Annual Gulf Islands Tourney

Preliminary Rounds Carried Out in Tennis Tournament—Mel Dranga, Bud Hocking and Dunc Williams Seeking Honors

(Special to The Colonist)

GANGES, Aug. 23.—With Mel Dranga, holder of the Washington State, Seattle city and other titles; Bud Hocking, British Columbia top ranking star, and Dunc Williams, another top ranking racketeer, on deck, play in the annual Gulf Islands tennis championships got under way here today with the preliminary rounds being run off. None of the leading experts got into action, but will start tomorrow with serious playing. Hocking and Dranga are seeded at the top of the ladder in the men's singles and are expected to reach the finals.

Early victories marked the initial rounds, with the favorites winning as they pleased. The closest match of the day took place in the men's doubles when J. Snow and C. Dion combined to eliminate A. L. McCabe and H. Monk in two hard-fought sets. The winners took the first set at 12-10, and then captured the second in extra games at 9-7.

Complete results follow:

GRIGGS DIES AFTER CRASH

Popular Member of Seniors' Golf Ass'n Passes Following Auto Accident

When he 1934 Seniors' Northwest Golf Association tournament gets under way at the Royal Colwood Golf Club next August, another popular member will be among those missing. Ward was received from Olympia, Washington, yesterday by Captain J. V. Peterson, secretary of the Victoria Golf Club, and of the seniors' body, that Herbert S. Griggs, Tacoma, prominent attorney and lumberman, had died following head injuries received in an auto accident a mile from Shelton last Friday. He was driving home from the seniors' tourney, which completed at Oak Bay on Friday afternoon, with his brother, Major Everett G. Griggs, also of Tacoma, who was slightly injured in the crash, but is now recovering at his Tacoma home.

Captain Perks was visibly affected by the sad news, as the popular Tacoma man was an active figure around the Oak Bay links during the last tournament. "Mr. Griggs was one of our most popular and active members, and his loss will be keenly felt by the seniors," Captain Perks stated.

FORMER PRESIDENT

Griggs was a former president of the association and was a charter member. He was elected to the membership committee at the last annual meeting. A year ago at Colwood he was runner-up to R. W. Gibson, Victoria, in the "A" Class championship. He was seventy-two years old.

Mr. Griggs arrived in Tacoma in 1888 from St. Paul, Minn., where he was born on February 27, 1861, the son of Colonel and Mrs. Chauncey Griggs. He attended the public schools of St. Paul and later was graduated from the Yale Law School. He was one of the organizers of the St. Paul & Tacoma Lumber Company and its secretary and trustee. He held similar positions in the Wilkeson Coal & Coke Company, Griggs Investment Company, and the John Dower Lumber Company.

Besides his widow he is survived by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Jr. and Chauncey L. and two daughters, Harriet L. and Elvira C.; two brothers, Everett G., who is chairman of the board of the St. Paul & Tacoma Company, and Theodore of St. Paul; two sisters, Mrs. George C. Wagner, of Tacoma, and Mrs. Benjamin Gilton, of New York City.

Kent XI Takes Lead Over West Indies Eleven

CANTERBURY, Eng., Aug. 23 (CP).—Kent ran up a first-innings score of 331 runs against the touring British West Indies today, and at the close of play the West Indies had lost three wickets for 45 runs.

C. H. Knott, of the Kent side, not only stopped what looked like an early rout, but stayed at the wicket.

THE RIGHT PLACE

"I've come from the employment bureau, ma'am," said the girl. "They said you wanted a servant."

"But I do all the work myself," replied the lady of the house.

"Then the place will just suit me."

Nine-Year-Old, Coached By Tutor of Two Helens

Another Promising Youngster in the Making in California—Expects to Be Second Helen Wills Moody—Has Great Prospects

BERKELEY, Cal., Aug. 23.—Will the Berkeley Tennis Club give tennis a third great woman champion? Coach Pop Fuller, who schooled Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, generally regarded as world champion, and Miss Helen Jacobs, national champion, in the finer aspects of the net game on Berkeley's historic courts, thinks so.

And Pop should know. The then not-so-great Moody came to him, a tiny kid in pigtails with remarkable potentialities. What she knew about the game she had learned from her father, a clever amateur player. Fuller sent Helen the first into competitive tennis and an amazing career which has overshadowed that of all previous women players.

Some time after that Helen the Second was graduated from the Berkeley courts, and for long has been second only to the mighty Moody on this continent.

Now, Pop Fuller is busy with a little child of a girl—nine-year-old Ann Morgan. Just a baby, tiny Ann has already displayed such tennis ability that even conservative experts are predicting great things for her—ten years from now.

Fuller, himself, believes Ann may equal, if not surpass, the achievements of the two Helens. That's a big promise—but Ann, at nine, is already winning Pacific Coast junior titles!

NEW 1934 VICTOR RADIO

Now on Display

Hear this new and improved VICTOR today. Glorious tone—beautiful cabinet.

$129.00

$12.90 Cash, $10.00 Monthly

KENT'S

641 Yates St. Phone E 6013

start around noon Friday, and picking the probable winner is the favorite sport of Torontonians at present.

So far, thirty-seven mermaids have signified their intention of taking the plunge.

Shop Assistant: "Yes, sir, this is the very latest life-saving belt we can procure."

Customer: "Is it absolutely reliable?"

Assistant: "Well, sir, we've sold hundreds, and no one has ever brought one back."

The black people of Africa were first called negroes by the Spanish and Portuguese.

W. & J. WILSON

Men's and Boys' Clothes
 Junior Woollens—Burberry Coats
 Established 1882

1517 Government Street Phone G 9613

SPEND LABOR DAY AT Qualicum Beach Hotel

Play in Our Golf Tournament—Swim, Ride, Fish and Join Our Dinner Dance Saturday Night

Rates From $1.00 Per Day

WE REMAIN OPEN ALL YEAR ROUND

Write for Our Fall and Winter Rates

READ AND Use the WANT-ADS

Here Is Your Home

A house and property in Victoria is a sound investment, and in the classified columns you will find the very one you want. Now you may know independence and the thrill of owning your own home at a lower cost than ever before.

The Colonist Want Ads List the Bargains You Have Waited For!

Under Section 78, "Houses for Sale," there are hundreds of real values, residences and business property, sacrificed at a fraction of the true cost.

THE DAILY COLONIST

CLASSIFIED AD DEPARTMENT

Open 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Ph. E 4114, E 4115

NAPOLEON AND UNCLE ELBY

THERE'S ONLY ONE SURE WAY TO GET A GOPHER, AND THAT'S TO DROWN HIM OUT. BOY, WAIT TILL THIS WATER HITS HIM.

By Clifford McBride

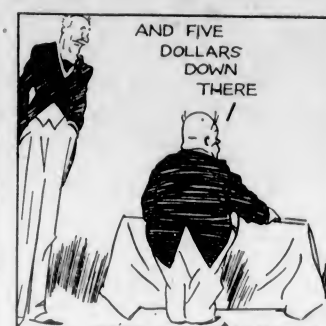

POP

AND, COLONEL, I WOULDN'T TOUCH A HARD-BOILED EGG IF YOU GAVE ME FIVE DOLLARS!

IF YOU PUT A HARD-BOILED EGG DOWN THERE

AND FIVE DOLLARS DOWN THERE

I'D TAKE THE FIVE DOLLARS!

Money Talks

By J. Millar Watt

TILLIE THE TOILER

A New Role for Mac

By Westover

C'MON, TILLIE, LET'S BECOME THE CALIFORNIA FORD DINNERS!

OH, I ALMOST FORGOT TO PUT ROSIE TO BED. (YIM COMING, ROSIE?)

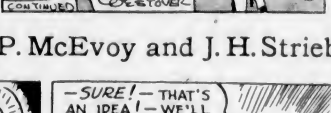

NOW, THERE YOU ARE!

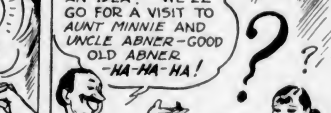

IMAGINE THAT FOR A BED!

ARE YOU ALL COME FORTABLE, ROSIE?

GOOD GRIEF, KISS HER GOOD NIGHT, AND COME ON!

I'M AS COZY AS A CASH BOX!

G'BYE, POPPA MAC!

DIXIE DUGAN

Bright Idea

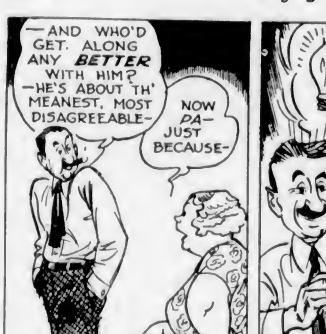

By J. P. McEvoy and J. H. Striebel

HEY, FOLKS—I'VE GOT AN IDEA!—AFTER WHAT WE'VE BEEN THROUGH, WHAT WE NEED IS TO GET AWAY FROM IT ALL, AN' I SUGGEST WE BACK UP AN' GO TO AUNT MINNIE'S FARM FOR A REST!

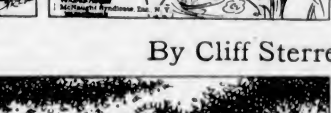

YES—THAT IS AN IDEA!

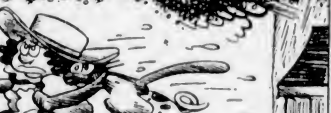

WHAT?

—WITH YOUR BROTHER-IN-LAW AROUND? NOT FOR ME!

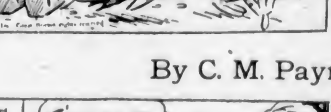

OH DEAR—I FORGOT!—PA AND YOUR UNCLE ABNER GET ALONG LIKE A COUPLE OF STRANGE TOM-CATS!

—AND WHO'D GET ALONG ANY BETTER WITH HIM?—HE'S ABOUT TH' MEANEST, MOST DISAGREEABLE—

NOW PA—JUST BECAUSE—

—SURE!—THAT'S AN IDEA!—WE'LL GO FOR A VISIT TO AUNT MINNIE AND UNCLE ABNER—GOOD OLD ABNER—

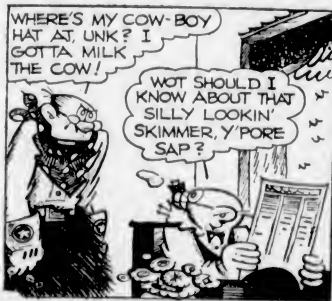

HA-HA-HA!

POLLY AND HER PALS

Broncho Buster

By Cliff Sterrett

WHERE'S MY COW-BOY HAT AT, UNK? I GOTTA MILK THE COW!

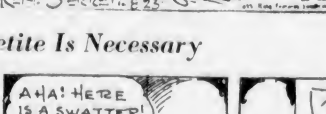

WOT SHOULD I KNOW ABOUT THAT SILLY LOOKIN' SKIMMER, Y'PORE SAP?

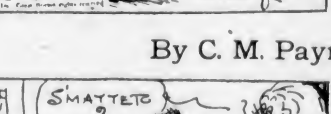

WAL, SOMEBUDDY SWIPE IT, DAG NAB IT!

NONSENSE, SON. NOBUDDY'D BE FOUND DEAD IN THAT DIP!

SHADES OF BUFFALO BILL, ASH, I TAKE IT ALL BACK!

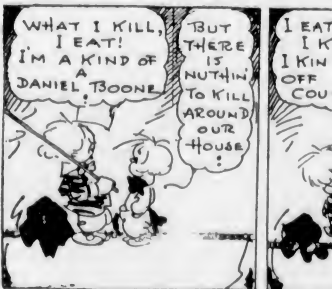

SHE'S SUCH A GOSSIP!

S'MATTER POP

Of Course an Appetite Is Necessary

By C. M. Payne

WHAT I KILL, I EAT! I'M A KIND OF A DANIEL BOONE!

BUT THERE IS NUTHIN' TO KILL AROUND OUR HOUSE!

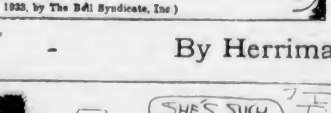

I EAT WHAT I KILL! I KIN LIVE OFF THE COUNTRY!

YOU'RE OUT OF LUCK! I CAN'T THINK OF A THING FOR YOU TO KILL!

AHA! HERE IS A SWATTER! I'LL START YOU IN ON THE FLIES!

S'MATTER?

KRAZY KAT

By Herriman

HEAR ABOUT THE SCANDAL AT THE 'BOW WOWS'?

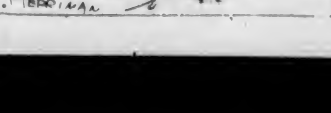

WHY, NO, KRAZY? TELL ME.

WELL, IT'S LIKE THIS: BIDA 'MR. BOW WOW' WAS FLOTTING WIT A BLONDE OR MRS. BOW WOW WAS MAKING EYES AT THAT DALMATIAN DUKE.

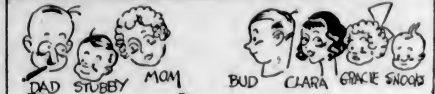

AND THAT'S NOT ALL—

SHHH—HERE COMES MRS. HWAH! WAKK!

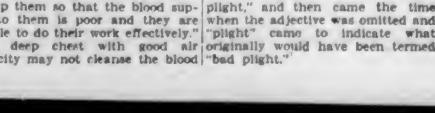

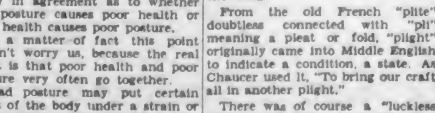

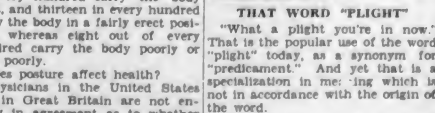

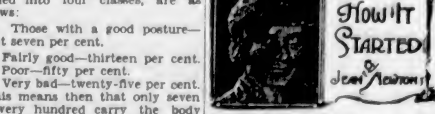

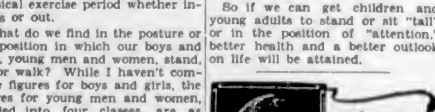

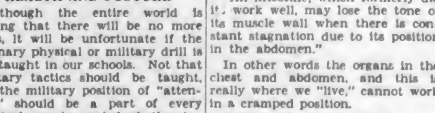

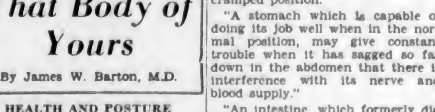

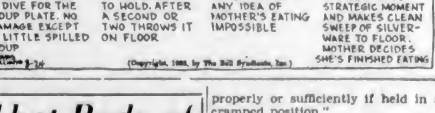

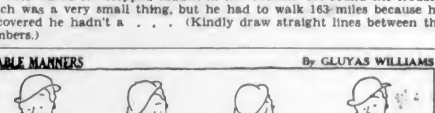

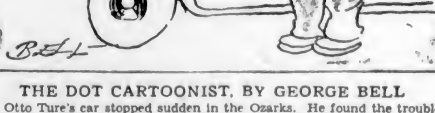

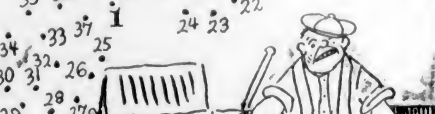

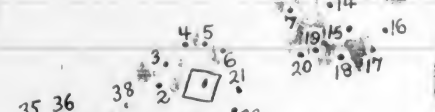

THE TUTTS ... By Crawford Young

...IT SEEMS DAD NEVER LIKED THAT GIRL OF BUD'S.

SHE'S QUIT ME! MY GIRL WON'T HAVE ANYTHING MORE TO DO WITH ME!

YOU DON'T LOOK SO GOOD YOURSELF—ANYTHING WRONG?

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

HEALTH AND POSTURE

Although the entire world is hoping that there will be no more wars, it will be unfortunate if the ordinary physical or military drill is not taught in our schools. Not that military tactics should be taught, but the military position of "attention" should be a part of every physical exercise period whether indoors or out.

What do we find in the posture of the position in which our boys and girls, young men and women, stand, sit, or walk? While I haven't complete figures for boys and girls, the figures for young men and women, divided into four classes, are as follows:

A. Those with a good posture—about seven per cent.
B. Fairly good—thirteen per cent.
C. Poor—fifty per cent.
D. Very bad—twenty-five per cent.

This means then that only seven in every hundred carry the body erect, and thirteen in every hundred carry the body in a fairly erect position, whereas eight out of every hundred carry the body poorly or very poorly.

Does posture affect health? Physicians in the United States and in Great Britain are not entirely in agreement as to whether bad posture causes poor health or poor health causes poor posture.

As a matter of fact this point needn't worry us, because the real point is that poor health and posture very often go together.

"Bad posture may put certain parts of the body under a strain or cramp them so that the blood supply to them is poor and they are unable to do their work effectively." "A deep chest with good air capacity may not cleanse the blood properly or sufficiently if held in a cramped position."

"A stomach which is capable of doing its job well when in the normal position, may give constant trouble when it has sagged so far down in the abdomen that there is interference with its nerve and blood supply."

"An intestine, which formerly did it, work well, may lose the tone of its muscle wall when there is constant stagnation due to its position in the abdomen."

In other words the organs in the chest and abdomen, and this is really where we "live," cannot work in a cramped position.

So if we can get children and young adults to stand or sit "tall" or in the position of "attention," better health and a better outlook on life will be attained.

From the old French "plie" doubtless connected with "plait" meaning a pleat or fold, "plight" originally came into Middle English to indicate a condition, a state. As Chaucer used it, "To bring our craft all in another plight."

There was of course a "luckless plight," and then came the time when the adjective was omitted and "plight" came to indicate what originally would have been termed "bad plight."

That is the popular use of the word "plight" today, as a synonym for "predicament." And yet that is a specialization in meaning which is not in accordance with the origin of the word.

From the old French "plie" doubtless connected with "plait" meaning a pleat or fold, "plight" originally came into Middle English to indicate a condition, a state. As Chaucer used it, "To bring our craft all in another plight."

There was of course a "luckless plight," and then came the time when the adjective was omitted and "plight" came to indicate what originally would have been termed "bad plight."

GROUPS ENJOY DAY'S OUTING

B.C. Electric and Junior Chamber Hold Successful Picnics at Deep Cove

Deep Cove, one of the many delightful picnic spots on lower Vancouver Island, was the gathering place for two organized outings, yesterday afternoon, the office staff of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company and the members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce augmented by members and friends from the Senior Chamber who went along to enjoy the field day, the first attempted by the junior body.

Both picnics were well attended and the weather was ideal for an afternoon of rest and recreation. Upwards of 100 members of the office staff of the B.C. Electric, which comprised the Douglas and Langley Streets offices, left for the picnic grounds by bus shortly after 1 o'clock and during the afternoon engaged in running and novelty races and a softball game and other forms of athletic amusement. Supper was served in the open at 6 o'clock and the party returned to the city shortly after 8 o'clock.

JUNIOR CHAMBER
Efforts of the executive and picnic committees of the Junior Chamber of Commerce were crowned with success when nearly 200, including members, their families and invited guests, unpacked their picnic equipment and packed up their cars for an afternoon and evening of fun and frolic of which there was plenty. The big party left the city around 1 o'clock, traveling to Deep Cove in automobiles provided by the committee on transportation. On arrival at the picnic grounds a programme of sports was commenced and continued until the supper hour. There were races for children and adults as well as a number of variety events that occasioned much merriment.

Youth Postpones Trip to Chicago When Car Speeds

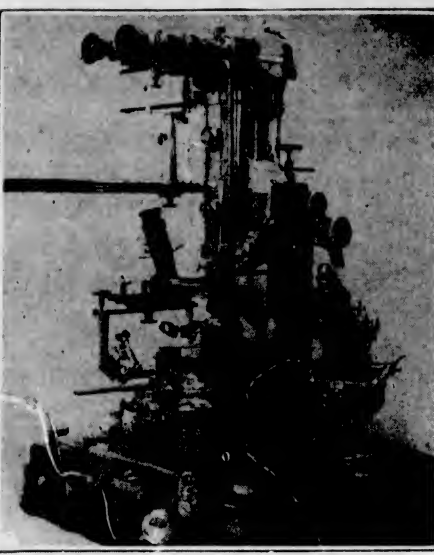

Roy Wilson, Shelbourne Street, built a "bug" and intended to drive it to Chicago to see the Century of Progress. On August 13 a vigilante police constable spotted the youth driving the made-over car on Hillside Avenue and the city police court, yesterday morning, was charged with driving to the common danger, was convicted and fined $15.

R. C. Lowe, who appeared for the youth, informed the court that Wilson had intended going to Chicago. "Rev. Dr. Clem Davies," Mr. Lowe said, "has been advising everyone to see the Chicago exhibition and this young man was taking his advice."

However, it was revealed in evidence that the car had neither tail light nor speedometer, the emergency brake was not equipped with a ratchet and the headlights consisted of one fixed and one roving spotlight. The magistrate considered the youth was not using prudence in driving the auto on the highway and found him guilty.

Barber (from force of habit): "Your hair is getting rather thin on top, sir."
Boy: "I don't wonder at it, considering the homework we've had lately!"

Invents New Microscope

—Central Press Photograph.

THE new Rife Universal Microscope, invented and manufactured by Dr. Royal Rife, of San Diego, Cal., is now on display at the Fine Arts Gallery in San Diego. This remarkable and highly complex instrument enables scientists to see germs before they reach maturity. Modern microscopes can only detect germs when they are fully developed. The new apparatus thus shifts the bacteriological battle to a new field with tremendous potential benefits to humanity. The microscope is operated on a periscope principle. Light is transposed twenty-one times through as many phases, reaching a magnification of 20,000 for the object as seen through the master eye-piece.

WIFE FOR SALE

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

CHAPTER XXIII
Norah dreaded the coming May Day. It was to be the beginning of so much that was new and strange, and the ending of so much that was familiar and loved. She was to tell her family, and he his family, of her engagement to David on May Day, and of their plan to be married a few weeks later. And she was to turn over Foxaway to the Dunsmuirs on that same day.

The Dunsmuirs were coming up to the Lake House at Chattahquah, and old Judge Bailey was to drive up from Morristown, and the whole formal business of relinquishing the place that had been home to the Olivers for sixteen eventful months would take place.

Barry's will had been filed after the unsuccessful return of the second relief expedition; it gave Foxaway to Hazel Dunsmuir. That was flat. Barry was officially dead, as Dr. Sassoon was dead. The great explorer's body had been found buried deep in an iceberg that was frozen tight to the ice-foot of Ross Sea. His journal, wrapped safely in the collapsed tent, had ended the story: "No food since Friday; we think this is Monday, September 3," said the penciled lines. "We are drifting toward land; Jones did not get the seal. Bad, bad, bad. Barry—"

That was all, and even that bit was blurred, almost illegible. Norah had pored over the meagre newspaper reports hungrily; there was no more. It was all over.

And immediately she had letters from Mrs. Dunsmuir and Judge Bailey. They would be up as soon as the rains ended; would she be ready to surrender the farm?

Yes, of course she would. She had no choice. Norah's heart had ached fiercely at the necessity; she thought that had been home to the Olivers for sixteen eventful months they were married, and the expense of keeping so large a place going would be out of the question for them anyway. Indeed, finances were already worrisome; her mother's plans, Eve's plans, her own clothes for engagement parties, would all cost money, and money was scarce.

"You could get something, you know, from Dunsmuir's estate," Keith hopefully observed one night when they were talking.
"I don't want to. I'd take Foxaway fast enough, if I could get it. But I'm not taking it from his widow, and I couldn't put in any claim. I only want enough to get clear away."
"Does the Howard family know about your marrying him?"
"No. The subject made her nervous. 'And I don't want them to,' she said. 'I'm going to tell David, but not his father and mother; it sounds so silly. It sounds so common. I just want to forget it.'"

"Well, I think you're rather a fool not to take what you can get," Keith observed mildly. He had been transferred, in midwinter, from his company's Guatemala office to their New York office; he was shortly to go back to Central America, and hoped this time to take his mother with him. Eve, taking a correspondence course in interior design, was also at home; the Olivers had enjoyed a brief country interval, freed from the city's strain and pressure; now it appeared that Foxaway had been only a reprieve, not a cure for their troubles. From the time of their father's death they had all been drifters, taking the line of least resistance, formulating no plans; fustian on the tremendous current of the biggest city's turbulent waters.

Just this last year Norah had hoped for something better; background, occupation, significance in her life. It had been defeated; this first day of May was to see everything changed. And dearly as she loved David—and she told herself continually that no girl could have a more splendid fate than to marry David—she knew that she would surrender Foxaway with a sense of bafflement, of defeat.

David would take care of her now. But at Foxaway she would have been able to take care of herself. Keith had a few hundred dollars; Norah less than a hundred dollars; David assured her enthusiastically that his father would lend the Olivers any amount. They would get through, of course; they would be quietly married, everything would straighten out. But there was no sense of triumph, of excitement about it. It was rather like turning into a port in a storm.

"If only I were sure I loved David," she would say, half aloud. And she would answer herself once: "Of course you do! Isn't this what you've been praying for?"

At all events, David was in no doubt of it. He was a completely normal person, which meant, at twenty-five, that he thought well of rich, handsome, popular David Howard. Norah never saw a sign of uncertainty as to his plans or hers in David's eyes.

And under all these plans, for her, burned the wretchedness, the jealousy that stirred in her whenever she thought of turning Foxaway over to the Dunsmuirs.

Norah, a few days before the change, packed away in a special trunk of her own some certain books and letters and old dim photographs. After all, it wasn't quite stealing; after all, she had some right to Barry's old letters and his little-boy diary, written with a burning heart in his first boarding school.

Norah's eyes had been wet more than once, as she read the old record, and she had seen through a blur of tears the picture of the little boy in his sailor suit, leaning against

Store News for Today

Just Arrived
Misses' Donegal Tweed COATS
New for Fall
$14.95

This new shipment of Misses' Coats features swaggy and belted styles with raglan sleeves, and all are fully lined. Very smart in appearance and of excellent grade weave. Sizes 15-17 years.
—Children's, 1st Floor

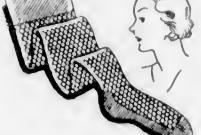

Step-In Girdles
Price Each $2.95

14-Inch Girdles of peach knit elastic, with panels of peach satin down front and lightly boned. Step-in style, with four hose supporters. Each, $2.95
—Corsets, 1st Floor

Deep Brassieres
Price Each $1.00

Side-Hook Brassieres of fancy peach cotton with shaped swami silk bust section. Boned across diaphragm. Each, $1.00
—Corsets, 1st Floor

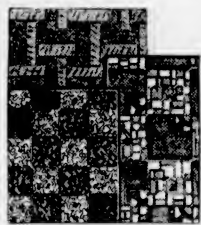

200 Pairs of Silk "Mesh" Hose
Regular $1.50 A Pair 69c

Full-Fashioned Silk Hose in lace or plain mesh effects. Shown in a good range of shades and all sizes. A pair, 69c
—Hosiery, Main Floor

A New Shipment of
WOMEN'S ANKLE SOCKS
39c

Mercerized Lisle and All-Silk Ankle Socks in plain or mesh effects, with neat-fitting double cuffs. In pastel shades, beige and white. Sizes 8 1/2 to 10 1/2. A pair, 39c
—Hosiery, Main Floor

Remnants of Linoleum
At Clearance Prices Today
As the Quantity Is Limited, Early Buying Is Advised!

Remnants of Printed Linoleum in lengths up to 8 square yards. Values to 98c a square 50c
Remnants of Inlaid Linoleum, the designs through to the canvas. Regular to $1.50 a square 95c
Remnants of embossed inlay and heaviest quality marble inlaid. Regular to $2.95 a square $1.50
—Linoleum, 2nd Floor

Men's Odd Sports Coats
Regular $9.75 Value for $5.00

Smart, neat-fitting Sport Coats of wool tweeds—several patterns to choose from. Some have belted backs, others plain. For the man who requires an odd coat for golf or general wear these are most practical—and the value most exceptional. On display in the Men's Clothing Department.

—Men's Floor

MEN'S OUTING SHIRTS
Very Special Each $1.00

Shirts of fine broadcloth with collar attached. Plain or striped patterns. All sizes.
—Men's Furnishings, Main Floor

MEN'S BRACES
At Special Prices

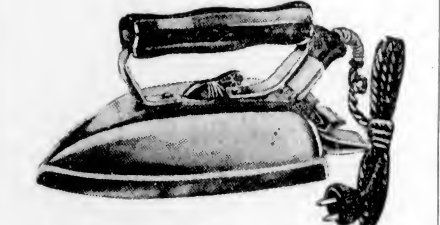

Braces of silk elastic with detachable leather ends. Fancy patterns. 50c
Regular 75c for—

Dress Braces of silk elastic with detachable leather ends. Plain or fancy. Regular $1.00 for 75c
—Men's Furnishings, Main Floor

Men's Shorts and Undervests

Shorts, plain or striped patterns. Arrow make, full cut and very comfortable. 50c and 75c

Elastic Rib Athletic Style Vests in all sizes. A garment 35c and 50c
—Men's Furnishings, Main Floor

WESTINGHOUSE
Offers an Electric Necktie Presser

FREE!
With the purchase of any of the following Westinghouse appliances. This offer lasts until the end of our August Sale.

The list price of the Necktie Presser is $1.80. It is a handy little gadget, and if you are in need of any electrical appliances it is a good chance to get one free!
6-Lb. Electric Iron, complete with cord, $3.45
Turnover Electric Toaster, complete with cord, $4.85
7-Cup Chrome-Plated Percolator, $8.50
Cozy Glow Electric Heater, $5.00
—Hardware, Lower Main Floor

Our Big Sale of Water-Damaged Goods Continues in Our Groceteria

Hundreds of Dollars' Worth of Goods at a Fraction of Their Value—Section 5—Groceteria Cash and Carry

DAVID SPENCER LIMITED

Store Hours: 9 A.M. to 6 P.M.; Wednesday, 1 P.M.; Saturday, 6 P.M.—Phone: Empire 4141

CHICAGO WORLD'S FAIR
Operator, Demonstrating
New Cluster Curl
2.50
Res. 87.50
"The Last Word"
in PERMANENTS
Brought to You Directly From the WORLD'S FAIR
Our National Demonstrator has just returned after attending the Hairdressers' Convention of the Chicago World's Fair, and brings with her the latest news of Modern Permanent Wave. She is here to teach our local operators on the newest in the craft for the benefit of our Victoria clientele. She will also give demonstrations at the Victoria and Vancouver exhibitions. You are cordially invited to call and interview her regarding your permanents.
Beauty Shoppe Kresge Bldg.
2161 Douglas Street Phone E 6022

Take Your Camera With You . . .
Enter The Daily Colonist SNAPSHOT COMPETITION
Grand Prize
Open to Amateurs Only—June 1 to August 31
MONTHLY AWARDS OF
$10.00 $5.00 and $2.00
Offered for the Best Photographs of the Attractions of Vancouver Island
GRAND FINAL PRIZES OF
$50.00 $25.00 and $10.00
RULES OF CONTEST
All photographs must have been taken after May 14, 1933.
Photographs to be unmounted prints not less than 2 1/4 inches by 3 1/4 inches—no negatives accepted.
The Daily Colonist reserves the right to use any prints for reproduction.
NO ENTRANCE FEE
Contest is open to all amateurs other than employees of The Daily Colonist
Address All Entries to
The Daily Colonist Snapshot Contest
The Daily Colonist, Victoria, B.C.